The WV BREEDERS PROGRAM OFFERS SOME OF THE BEST INCENTIVES IN THE NATION

Find another program like it in the country!

- At least FIVE West Virginia-restricted races are offered each racing day at West Virginia race tracks exclusively for accredited WV-bred and/or -sired horses.
- West Virginia-bred horses can go through their conditions twice, once in restricted WV-bred races, and then again in open races at West Virginia tracks.
- The WV Thoroughbred Development Fund distributes over $4 million to breeders, owners, and sire owners of accredited WV-bred and/or -sired horses each year.
- The West Virginia Breeders Classics pays out approximately $1 million in purses for accredited WV-bred and/or -sired horses each October.
- $800,000 is distributed annually in restricted WV stakes races for accredited WV-bred and/or -sired horses.
- Supplemental Purse Awards are distributed quarterly for up to 10% of the share of the purse to the owner, breeder, and/or sire owner for accredited WV-bred and/or -sired winners of WV races.
- West Virginia offers year-round racing with 160 days of racing per year.

For West Virginia-bred foals to be eligible for accreditation, mares foaling in West Virginia must become resident mares or be bred back to an accredited West Virginia stallion.

Go Figure

17 Consecutive 1-2 finishes for Snap Decision to start his steeplechase career over the 2019, 2020, 2021 and 2022 seasons. The Maryland-based gelding won his first Eclipse Award for a 2024 campaign that included three wins (two Grade 1) in five starts and a career-high $337,500 in earnings. He enters 2025 with $1,131,900 earned over jumps, second all-time behind McDynamo's $1,310,104.

15 Regional-breds on the list of 373 horses nominated to the 2025 Triple Crown series. Three of the 15 have earned Kentucky Derby-G1 points – Virginia-bred Omaha Omaha, who was second in the Jerome Jan. 4 and third in the Withers Feb. 1; Withers runner-up Surfside Moon, a Pennsylvania-bred; and Maryland-bred Studlydoright, who was fourth in the Jerome and last year's Remsen.

Names of the Month

Larry Johnson Edition

Longtime Mid-Atlantic owner/breeder Larry Johnson, who died Feb. 4, named numerous horses after family members including Hi Earl (grandfather), Special Kell, Another Kell and Unreasonable Kelly (daughter Kelly) and Tracy's Turn, Turn to T. J. and T. J.'s Legacy (daughter Tracy).

But Johnson had even more fun with the offspring of Whatwouldhappenif, the first horse he bred and a 1980 daughter of Red Monk and Ran's Chick.

A sampling of her foals, all bred in Maryland or Virginia:

- What It Is, a stakes-winning daughter of Parfaitement foaled in 1991.
- Dowhatisay, a stakes-placed daughter of Oh Say foaled in 1992.
- Not What I Do, a stakes-placed daughter of Parfaitement foaled in 1993.
- Dowhatyouwanttwodo, a winning daughter of Two Punch foaled in 1995.
- Whatdreamswillcome, a winning son of Star de Naskra foaled in 1997.
- Whatevershewants, a winning daughter of Mountain Cat foaled in 1998.
- What Do I Do, a stakes-placed daughter of Two Smart (a multiple stakes winner for Johnson who stood at his Legacy Farm) foaled in 2001.

Marylander Dorman enjoys Eclipse run with Citizen Bull

Three years ago, Matt Dorman talked about building up his Determined Stables Thoroughbred venture with broodmares, a farm in his home state of Maryland, racehorses in a barn at Fair Hill Training Center and more. Play it all out and Determined would be a player at or near the top of the game.

Let's just say the production didn't stick to the script.

Dorman never built the farm in Montgomery County and sold the 400 acres. The Fair Hill barn is on the market. The Mid-Atlantic racing stable didn't find its footing. Dorman and trainer Phil Schoenthal are no longer a team.

But Determined Stables is indeed a player on the national stage with a farm in Kentucky, an enviable band of mares, success at the sales and a piece of 2024 juvenile male champion and 2025 Kentucky Derby-G1 contender Citizen Bull. In 2023, Determined bought into the yearling purchases made by Tom Ryan on behalf of SF Racing, Starlight Racing, Madaket Stables and other major names. Those purchases made it to the races last year and included Citizen Bull, Grade 3 winner Getaway Car and winners Rodriguez, Romanesque and Kalea Bay. Dorman played the same hand in 2024, buying into another group of high-dollar yearling colts who will debut this year with trainer Bob Baffert.

Dorman built, launched and sold a medical software company and compared this path of his Thoroughbred business to that process.

"I'm an operations guy, systems are important," he said. "Tom Ryan and SF have a system and a plan. It matched up with what we wanted to do. It's a good system and it works. It made sense to me. Financially, it's venture capital with horses. I get that, I understand that. I knew some of the players, had conversations, ran into them at sales and for whatever reason they had some folks exiting out of their partnership and there was an opportunity to come in."

Ryan, bloodstock agent Donato Lanni and the team scout for yearlings they think will turn into top 3-year-olds. Success stories include champions Authentic and National Treasure, plus Grade 1 winner Newgate. Not every horse turns into a star, but the opportunity for major success is there.

"The first year I did with them I went to my farm in Kentucky, and I went through weanlings and yearlings we had at the farm," he said. "The next day we went to the farm where the SF horses were and looked at them and it was like Murderer's Row. Big and strong, they weren't perfect, but they were 20 of the top 50 colts in the country."

Purchased for $675,000 at Keeneland September, Citizen Bull lived up to that assessment by winning his debut at Del Mar last summer. Third in the Del Mar Futurity-G1, he won the American Pharoah-G1 in October and clinched the divisional championship with a front-running score in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile-G1 at Santa Anita in November.

Dorman felt the impact.

"When they turned for home – oh my goodness, it was like 'Here we go,' " he said. "It's a pretty awesome feeling. Citizen Bull was very consistent. When I first saw him in Ocala just getting started, he was just a solid horse that everybody liked. He was easy to train, did his work, came off the track and was very low maintenance. It's been great to see him develop the way he has."

The Into Mischief colt opened 2025 by winning the 1-mile Robert B. Lewis-G3 at Santa Anita Feb. 1. Stablemate Rodriguez finished second.

Dorman probably wasn't thinking of such heady things when he visited his mares and foals at Sycamore Hall Farm in winter 2021, but here he is. His idea of a build-from-scratch Maryland farm got lost in permitting delays, supply-chain issues and the realization that high-end bloodstock should be closer to world-class veterinary assistance than Boyds, Md. The idea of buying fillies and adding them to the broodmare band stumbled when the fillies didn't succeed on the racetrack. Some pieces of the formula worked – yearling purchase Determined Kingdom won stakes and earned $734,177; Determined Jester won a stakes; homebred Determined Driver also became a stakes winner – but weren't enough to carry through.

Dorman bought 216-acre Sierra Farm in Lexington, scaled back in the Mid-Atlantic, moved horses from Schoenthal to Cherie DeVaux and Mike Trombetta and bought into the yearlings with SF and company all while building up his presence at the sales through advisor Scott Mallory. Determined sold two $500,000 yearlings in 2023, sold six for $300,000 or more in 2024 and teamed up with Hill 'n' Dale Farm, Lane's End and Gainesway on other moves. Determined bought four yearlings of its own in 2024 – three at Tattersalls and one at Keeneland. They'll eventually go to DeVaux.

"We shifted to Kentucky, right or wrong," Dorman said. "It's not a hobby, it's a business. The first ones we bought in 2020 did well. Some of the other ones we purchased just haven't done as well. Is it the purchase, the training, the breaking, the tracks they run? There was no clear answer, but they just didn't step up like we wanted. Phil's a great Mid-Atlantic trainer, he does a great job, but it's a different business model."

Most of his horses are in Kentucky, California and Florida, but Dorman lives in St. Michael's on the Eastern Shore and won't stop thinking about finding success at home. He sees potential in the new model coming to the state, the promise of a rebuilt Pimlico and new training center backed by the Maryland Thoroughbred Racetrack Operating Authority.

"The authority and the state have made some progress, that's a good sign," said Dorman, whose father Arthur was a state delegate and senator for more than 30 years. "There are a lot of good things happening in Maryland. The opportunity with Pimlico is significant and that will help the racing end of it. The races start with horses that are bred, and the breeding side needs to come along too. We need to bring up the foal crop and the quality.

"We had a lot of good wins and a lot of success at the Mid-Atlantic level. If I were to decide that Maryland racing was moving in the right direction, let's get back and do a

Beyond Dorman, the roster of 2024 champions included a smattering of regional connections. Female sprint champion Soul of an Angel is out of Pennsylvania-bred mare Factor One. Bred by Diamond Crest Farm, Factor One lost all six starts, including two in the region.

Her dam One Last Salute was also bred in Pennsylvania (by Peggy Reever). The daughter of Salutely raced for Augustin Stables and trainer Jonathan Sheppard, winning three times and stakes-placed twice. One Last Salute's dam Angie's Star was bred in Florida, but raced in the region for trainer Bill Boniface and owner Margaret McManus (the wife of television sportscaster and Maryland Million founder Jim McKay) and produced the McManuses' Maryland Million Nursery winner Sean's Ferrari (by Salutely).

Maryland Thoroughbred PR effort takes root

Scene: Sunny autumn afternoon at Laurel Park; Maryland Million Day 2024; horses in the paddock. People study programs, look at horses, wager, renew acquaintances, eat and drink, talk business, talk life.

Thoroughbred owner and breeder Jim Dresher sees it all and finds one thought. "There should be more people here. This is a great day, but it should be a bigger deal. This industry needs to do a better job marketing itself, it needs to tell its story."

The quote's a paraphrase. But Dresher had a point. And he did something about it.

Dresher organized the Maryland Thoroughbred Partnership – a volunteer group of Thoroughbred people – to address exactly what he lamented back in October. The group secured initial funding, hired a Bel Air public-relations firm, made somewhat immediate progress and looked ahead to lofty goals.

None of it was necessarily planned.

"This happened by accident," Dresher said in late January. "You've heard me say I wish we could tell our story better. The horse is one of the most romantic things on Earth and the most amazing stories I've come across in my life are connected to horses – people, animals, the industry, all of it."

Away from horses, Dresher knew David Nevins from Baltimore-area business and civic circles. Nevins' company Nevins and Associates does public-relations and communications work for various clients in the state. A Nevins email linking to an interview with Maryland's transportation secretary Paul Wiedefeld spurred Dresher to ask if the company would ever consider talking with someone from the Thoroughbred industry. That conversation led to further discussion about the state of the game and some of the needs. Next came a lunch meeting with Nevins, Dresher and Thoroughbred community members Tom Bowman, Billy Boniface, David Wade and Josh Pons.

The conversation covered the industry's history, economic impact, agricultural/environmental importance and myriad of human-interest story angles. And hinted at potential, especially given the new Thoroughbred chapter about to unfold in Maryland.

Nevins wrote a proposal. Dresher talked to more people, added to the committee and raised money. The Maryland Horse Breeders Association and Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association led the way with start-up contributions, and individuals, businesses and farms jumped on board as well via contributions to the Maryland Horse Foundation.

Nevins got to work. Regular meetings with the task force generated background and content for potential media coverage and a coming-soon MTP website (see itsposttime.com). When Maryland-based steeplechaser Snap Decision won an Eclipse Award in January, Nevins pitched the story to its contacts and the horse was featured on WBAL-TV's evening news and in the Baltimore Sun.

It's early days, but the progress showcased the potential of a cooperative effort. Nevins senior account director Wes Popolizio called the subject matter "super interesting" and said pretty much every story pitch came with positive feedback.

"This is a grassroots effort for the industry," said Dresher, whose business background includes owning McDonald's franchises and Marriott and Hilton hotel franchises. "This doesn't benefit one particular business or program, it benefits everybody. I just happened to pick up the phone and I have some business experience. You have to market yourself. I've been in several other industries, and I've witnessed national people who are really talented do this. I've seen this in action in other places."

Nevins aims to put its expertise, and 18-member staff, to work telling the Thoroughbred story to the public, legislators, businesses and anyone who will listen. The goal is education and the more people are educated about the Thoroughbred industry the more they'll understand it, support it, take part in it.

"We are, to put it in most simple of terms, professional storytellers, and this is a great story to tell," said Nevins. "We love great stories to tell, stories that are under told and this is one. We're very excited about the opportunity to begin promoting the Thoroughbred industry as one of the very important and key components of life in Maryland and economics of Maryland."

To that end, Nevins team members gathered background from committee members and the staff at the MHBA, visited farms, and checked in on 2024 Maryland-bred Horse of the Year Post Time. Racing's new business model in Maryland, managed by a non-profit, overseen by a state authority and eventually taking place at a new Pimlico Race Course and training center – all tied to the redevelopment of Baltimore's Park Heights community – offers opportunity. Marylanders generally know about the Preakness Stakes, but the event shrunk over the last decade. Thoroughbreds have been a part of the state's economy for generations, but outsiders might not connect all the pieces or grasp the importance to jobs, open space, farming, tourism and more.

"There is a basic lack of knowledge as to the size and the economic impact and the beneficial ecological impact of the horse industry in Maryland," Nevins said. "My sense is, while people go to the Preakness and bet, they don't really know or the average person doesn't particularly know a whole lot about horses."

The MTP hopes to change that, with a targeted approach focusing on Marylanders and – eventually – people from outside the area through media outreach, social media, a website, educational events and visitors to spread the word. Kentucky's Thoroughbred industry has become a major tourism driver with farm tours joining bourbon distilleries as common destinations. As Nevins put it, ask someone what they know about Maryland and you'll get relatively quick mentions of the Orioles, Ravens, crabs, maybe the Inner Harbor, Annapolis and Ocean City. Horse racing should be part of that list.

"It's not all about media relations," Nevins said. "We want to do some events and we're going to be figuring out ways to get people to visit horse farms. It'll take awhile to get where Kentucky is, but we want to work with some willing farm owners to make some things happen. That's part of our effort."

Beyond the public, Nevins aims to help state government understand the Thoroughbred industry. He's not a lobbyist, but knows the value of communicating with leaders – especially given the state's involvement in charting the industry's future.

"We want to tell the story to the powers that be, select members of the legislature, members of the governor's cabinet, the governor and people who are in position to influence other people. We want to influence the influencers, have them take the story to their people."

Initial funding ensured more than a year of effort from Nevins, but nobody talked about this being a short-term project which means funding will have to be solidified and that may depend on how the efforts of 2025 pan out. Success will be difficult to measure, but more Thoroughbred stories in the news, more people at the Preakness – and Maryland Million – would be good indicators.

"We agreed that we'll know it when we see it," Nevins said of gauging results. "It might be anecdotal initially, but hopefully we'll see a newfound resurgence and newfound knowledge about this well-kept secret of the Thoroughbred industry in Maryland. Our job is to make sure it's no longer a well-kept secret."

She will stay on as a consultant and member of the board of directors. "We thank Sally for her service to FHTC as General Manager, and going back further, as a barn owner with her husband Mike," said Bruce Jackson, president of the Fair Hill Condominium Association which leases the property from the state of Maryland's Department of Natural Resources. "Sally's fingerprints are on everything at FHTC and has been a key to our success for many years. We're thrilled to have her involved and look forward to Robert growing into the role with Sally's valuable input." Croteau grew up in the Boston area, the son of a Thoroughbred trainer, and had a trainer's license as a teenager. In 1986, he moved to the Mid-Atlantic for a job with Hall of Fame trainer Jonathan Sheppard and stayed in the area through different positions spanning several facets of the equine industry. "I always thought Fair Hill Training Center was a great concept and to actually be involved with something like that is exciting," said Croteau. "Racing is going through changes, and I think there's opportunity for places like Fair Hill. I want to help it be all it can be, but I'm very aware I'm standing on the shoulders of giants. They've done all the hard work." With Sheppard, Croteau's main job was caring for mares and young horses on the Pennsylvania farm. He also oversaw the construction of a still-in-use training track and training barn for Sheppard. After stints with trainer Gene Weymouth, at Fair Hill, and at the new Willowdale Steeplechase meet, Croteau took a job with the Iron Spring Farm sport-horse operation where he worked with stallions, young horses and competition horses in addition to tackling various operational responsibilities. After 15 years there, Croteau was hired by the Cool Systems Game Ready equine therapy company and became the international sales director. Since 2011, he has stayed closer to his home in Christiana, Pa., while working in equine nutrition as an account manager for the Pennsylvania-based Stoltzfus Feed and Supply. Croteau and his wife Mary are the parents of 25-year-old daughter Isabelle, an environmental scientist who recently moved to Oregon for work. Founded in 1983, the Cecil County training center includes 18 privately owned barns and at its peak capacity is home to approximately 700 Thoroughbred racehorses.

SAFE BET PROGRAM

Dear Breeder,

Breeding to a fourth-year stallion is a bet on early racetrack success—one that can be highly rewarding.

In 2024, our freshman sire Thousand Words delivered, siring a Saratoga graded stakes winner among other top performers. Breeders who supported him through the Safe Bet Program bred at a $5,000 fee, with built-in protection. Following his strong start, his 2025 fee rose to $12,500.

Not all stallions hit early, but Safe Bet provides risk protection. In 2025, we extend this program to four freshman stallions with promising credentials, each standing for $5,000 S&N. If any fails to sire a graded black-type winner from their first two-year-olds, participating breeders will owe no stud fee for their 2026 foal.

Through March 14, artists can submit original, two-dimensional visual art celebrating the Preakness Stakes and Thoroughbred racing to preakness.com/the-art-of-racing. "We're thrilled to officially kick off the 2025 Art of Racing, inviting artists nationwide to celebrate Preakness 150 and the incredible sport of Thoroughbred racing through creativity," said Audra Madison, director of marketing at The Maryland Jockey Club. "The Art of Racing unites art, tradition and support for the Park Heights community. We would love to see 150 submissions to celebrate Preakness 150." Last year, the program received 149 captivating entries, each piece of artwork vividly capturing the essence of racing, with every creation offering a unique perspective on the legendary Preakness Stakes. Following the call for submissions, the competition will feature an open voting phase from March 15-28, during which time the public is invited to vote for their favorite work of art through the Art of Racing website. The top 10 will advance as finalists, with the winner chosen by a panel of judges from the artistic, business, philanthropic and political sectors, who consistently support Park Heights as the home of the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico Race Course. The winning artist will be awarded a $4,000 prize and two tickets to Preakness 150 Saturday, May 17. In addition, their work will be reproduced on a curated collection of Preakness 150 merchandise available for purchase online and onsite during Preakness weekend. Proceeds will again be directed to the Park Heights Renaissance, a non-profit organization pursuing employment opportunities and affordable housing for Park Heights residents. The winner of last year's competition was Leo Kahl, a Baltimore-based artist whose original illustration titled "First Turn" was selected from among 149 total submissions.

Anyone familiar with the Pons family's Country Life Farm racing partnerships has seen enthusiastic owners at racetracks throughout the Mid-Atlantic. Maryland Million Day can be a high holy day for the orange and blue.

Perhaps lesser known – but equally meaningful – is the esprit de corps that follows partnership runners beyond racing careers. Kim Crowell can quote chapter and verse on the matter. A significant portion of her professional life has been spent at Country Life's main farm in Bel Air, Md., and their training annex, Country Life at Merryland, in nearby Hydes.

"I was at Merryland for seven years, and I was the broodmare manager but also did the yearlings and layups," she said. "Now I am part-time at Country Life doing night watch."

Crowell's current partner is 12-year-old Flash McCaul, who caught her eye and captured her heart while at Merryland during layups from the track.

"He was at Merryland for a little bit and has just kind of been a barn favorite," Crowell said. "I watched his last race at the Maryland Million in 2018, so when he was up for a new home, it was like 'Gimme that horse.' "

Bred by Country Life, the Friesan Fire Syndicate and Mary and Clifton Cornwell, Flash McCaul was born at the main farm April 27, 2013. From the first crop of Friesan Fire, he is out of the Cryptoclearance mare An T M. The Cornwells, who named the horse after a friend, stayed in as partners during his racing career.

Trained by Larry Jones for Fox Hill Farm, Friesan Fire won three consecutive graded stakes at Fair Grounds ahead of the 2009 Kentucky Derby-G1 and started as the favorite in the country's most famous horse race. He faded to 18th after getting bumped and squeezed at the start as Mine That Bird pulled a 50-1 upset. Two weeks later at Pimlico, Friesan Fire participated in another iconic classic – the Preakness Stakes-G1 won by Rachel Alexandra. He finished 10th. He added the 2010 Louisiana Handicap before retiring in 2011 and joining the Country Life stallion roster for 2012.

"Flash McCaul was the first Friesan Fire offspring that we put into a racing partnership and he thrilled us with a first-out win at Laurel," said Christy Holden, Country Life's general manager. "He then followed that up with three stakes-placings and a couple of allowance wins. He was one of the horses that put Friesan Fire on the map with his first two crops. Flash was such a lovely, even-tempered horse that was everyone's favorite both at the track and on the farm, which is why when we decided it was time for him to stop racing and come back to the farm it didn't take long for Kim to snatch him up."

To be precise, Flash McCaul earned $214,821 in 26 starts with results of 3-7-1 for trainer Mike Trombetta. His second in the 2015 Maryland Million Nursery made him his sire's first stakes-placed offspring. He also finished second in that year's Maryland Juvenile Futurity and the 2016 Private Terms. He took his ownership group to the Maryland Million four times – the 2015 Nursery and the classic in 2016, '17 and '18.

"Flashie was a barn favorite," said Tana Aubrey, Trombetta's Laurel Park-based assistant. "He was lovely to ride and all the riders loved getting on him. He won first time out after breaking slowly, he circled the field and won impressively. He got plenty of mints and carrots that night in his dinner.

"I'm so glad Kim has him. She's done a good job with him. I know she loves him as much as we all did."

After a bit of downtime from the track, Flash McCaul began his new life. Originally from Massachusetts, Crowell grew up on her parents' dairy farm and has a long history with Thoroughbreds.

"We were dairy farmers on a dairy farmer's budget, so we would get them off the track," she said of childhood mounts. "My first was a little mare when I was in seventh grade. She actually went to college with me."

Crowell attended Wilson College in Chambersburg, Pa., earning a degree in equine management while riding on the school's hunt-seat equitation team. She met Nicole Martin, now manager of St. Omer's Farm in Forest Hill, Md. (See Silmaril: Next Chapters in the January 2025 edition) there.

"Nicole and I went to Wilson College together, so we have been besties since then," Crowell said. "She started working at St. Omer's a year before I came down, and she actually hooked me up with the job interview at Country Life. We graduated in 2008 and I moved down here in 2017."

The friends operate a barn together not far from St. Omer's. Crowell, who welcomed her first child in 2024, lives nearby in Bel Air. Flash McCaul boards there with other off-track Thoroughbreds, including former Country Life stallion Super Ninety Nine. Crowell planned to retrain Flash McCaul as a hunter, but the gelding communicated a different agenda.

"I got him when he was 6, and we got started right away," she said. "His overall appearance is kind of striking; he's very handsome and has a perfect temperament. We went to the

They are also three-time participants in the Real Rider Cup, an annual charity fundraiser at Fair Hill.

"I was honestly intimidated by the Real Rider Cup the first year," she said. "I didn't have a Retired Racehorse Project horse to take down to Kentucky, so it was just fun to do the Real Rider Cup instead. But once I did it, it was such a cool event. It's for a good cause obviously and you can't beat the heart of a Thoroughbred horse so anything I can do to promote them, I try to do."

Popular with the local crowd at the Real Rider Cup, Crowell and Flash McCaul receive solid support every year. It's not uncommon to see Country Life partners and Pons family members among the audience. Crowell and Flash McCaul are always accompanied by Country Life office manager Sallyellen Hurst who loves to serve as "super groom" and chief cheerleader for the event.

"It's a bit of an absurdity," Hurst said, "considering he's near 17 hands and I'm 15 hands."

With a return to that competition on the docket for 2025, Crowell also looks to move up to novice-level eventing this season.

"I try to get to a competition once a month; we'll do a few little shows and that's what we aim for," she said. "Just fun stuff. He has the perfect demeanor and he retired sound. I have been very lucky with him." ■

Looking ahead through dampened spirits

Rainy Sunday in mid-February. Labrador Retriever walked and toweled off. Raingear hung. Laundry mainly finished. Fourth book of 2025 completed (The Barn by Wright Thompson is one of the best and most important books I've ever read; also highly recommend Cabin by Patrick Hutchinson and The Green Mile by Kevin Fedarko). Cup of Barry's Gold Blend tea poured.

An inner voice speaks above the wind and rain outside. "Write the darn editorial for March already. Your Monday will go so much better."

This edition of Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred goes several directions, but loss feels like something of a theme.

Perry Bolton died at 94. The Marylander was a steadfast steeplechase owner who, with his friend Ben Griswold IV, formed Armata Stable and won the Maryland Hunt Cup three times. I have a voicemail message from Bolton about something I wrote that I'll try to never delete. He owned horses, pursued sport, supported trainers, cultivated history, gave to worthy causes and made me think.

Nobody should complain about a life that lasted 94 years, but he makes me think now that he's gone too. Are there future owners like Perry Bolton out there? Those who pursue something like the Maryland Hunt Cup with no guarantee or even reasonable expectation of success? I sure hope so.

Larry Johnson died at 78. A leading regional breeder for decades, he had just completed a career year. Mindframe, bred and sold by Johnson for $600,000 as a yearling, nearly won the Belmont Stakes-G1 and Haskell-G1. Homebred graded stakes winner Future Is Now and her younger half-sister Call Another Play, racing in Johnson's black and white silks, also won major races in 2024. All three won Maryland-bred championships, and earned Johnson his first Breeder of the Year award from the Maryland Horse Breeders Association. All three also trace to the $2,400 purchase of 2-year-old filly Ran's Chick in 1978. She bowed a tendon before racing and, instead of selling her or otherwise moving on, Johnson made her his first broodmare.

In January, about a month before he passed, Johnson looked forward to the potential of similar success this year. That he won't get to enjoy it lands hard.

Perry Bolton and Larry Johnson probably didn't know each other. Bolton grew up in a house with a name, went to Gilman and the University of Virginia. His grandfather Van Lear Black, who financed Admiral Byrd's flight to the North Pole, was one of the wealthiest people in Maryland when he died in 1930. Bolton went to the races in a coat and tie, pretty much all the time. Johnson grew up in Mount Rainier, a small city in Prince George's County, Md. he at least once referred to as "the hood." He went to the University of Maryland, became an accountant, preferred shorts and flip-flops to suits.

I am sure the two men weren't necessarily easy to deal with in all situations. Bolton wanted to win one race, a 4-mile, 22-fence race of great difficutly. Johnson wanted to succeed on the racetrack, in the sales arena, in boardrooms and courtrooms.

But they were forces. And they'll be difficult to replace.

The Starting Gate section of this magazine lists the Eclipse Award winners for 2024. The steeplechase champion, Snap Decision, calls the Mid-Atlantic home of course but the others on the list are decidedly not regional. Until you dig a little. Buried within the grocery list of owners of 2-year-old male champion Citizen Bull is Marylander Matt Dorman's Determined Stables.

A few years ago, Dorman made the magazine's cover thanks to big plans for a racing and breeding operation based in Maryland. There was going to be a farm in Montgomery County, prominent broodmares, well-bred foals going to sales as yearlings or a training base at Fair Hill as 2-year-olds. For reasons economical, practical and personal, Dorman abandoned all of that – didn't build the farm, moved the mares to Kentucky, bought a farm there and put the Fair Hill barn on the market. The idea of producing Maryland-breds by national sires, sending yearlings to sales and supporting a regional racing stable sounded good. It just didn't work the way Dorman wanted it to.

Dorman has the means to invest in horses such as Citizen Bull with some of the biggest names in racing, but he still lives in Maryland. He roots for racing to find its footing in the state. Until it does, he and people like him – Marylander TK Kuegler's Wasabi Ventures Stables also shifted its focus to Kentucky – aren't going to be involved at scale. That stings, for Maryland and the Mid-Atlantic.

The dog slept through the whole thing. Like me, she's hoping for brighter days, and topics, ahead. ■

Dark Knight

FINALLY A CHAMPION, SNAP DECISION EYES NEW SEASON

By Joe Clancy

Nighttime in the horse country of Maryland's Baltimore County. The northwest wind settles down. It might snow. It could sleet. If it's clear, the mercury could fall out of the thermometer. Ice thickens on farm ponds. Plugged-in tractors await morning starts. Deer graze on the hills or nibble on the shrubbery. Foxes bark in the woods. Hounds snooze in the kennels. Woodstoves glow in houses and barn apartments.

And somewhere out there, the best steeplechase horse on the continent stands watch.

Snap Decision, an Eclipse Award winner at last for owner Bruton Street-US and trainer Jack Fisher, spends his nights outside with best mate Cool Jet (Ire). Weather be damned.

"He's out all night because we found out he'd rather be out than in," said assistant trainer Ashley Randall. "He goes out around 5 in the evening and comes in around 7 in the morning."

A more standard schedule of early morning turnout didn't work for Snap Decision. He'd play hard to get, cantering away from Fisher, Randall, groom Jenna Elliott, exercise rider Graham Watters and any of the other various humans in his life – a one-horse productivity wrecker.

"You can tell when he's starting to feel good because he'll run circles around Graham in the field when he goes to catch him," said Elliott. "Everything is done on Snap's time. He just thinks it's funny. 'Well, if I have to leave my field to go to work, then you have to go to work too.' Life is just a game to him. The race is a game. Training is a game. Everything in his world is a game."

And he's winning.

Paced by a record-tying third win in the Iroquois Steeplechase-G1 in May and a victory in the American Grand National-G1 in October, the now 11-year-old bay gelding led all steeplechasers with $337,500 earned in 2024. The figure nearly doubled that of his nearest rival and once again sent Snap Decision's connections to the Eclipse Awards dinner. For the fifth consecutive year, their horse was a finalist for racing's highest seasonal honor. This time, owners Mike Hankin, Charlie Fenwick and Charlie Noell left with the bronze statue in a lopsided vote. Snap Decision received 182 first-place nods, to seven for Carloun (Ire) and three for Freddy Flintshire.

Nobody felt the triumph more than Randall, Elliott and Fisher's former assistant Sandra Webb.

"I'm so happy for him to finally get recognized for all the years he's gotten close," said Elliott. "I know it's terrible to say, but he should have had it by now. To finally have him do it means so much. He doesn't care, he gets mints either way, but it makes you feel good for him."

"He finally got what he deserved," said Randall. "And he must know it because he's feeling pretty good right now."

"To see Snap get it when he had deserved it for so long was special," said Webb. "He's been able to maintain his career for so long and it's awesome to see him run at the caliber he's running at and just keep trying and keep performing."

Bred in Kentucky by the Phipps Stable, Snap Decision might have spurred championship thoughts of another kind when he was foaled at Claiborne Farm in 2014. The son of Grade 1 winner Hard Spun and the Unbridled mare Salute came from greatness. His granddam, Personal Ensign, won all 13 starts, the 1988 older female Eclipse Award and a spot in racing's Hall of Fame. Her foals, in addition to Salute, include Grade 1 winners My Flag, Miner's Mark and Traditionally. While not at the level of her famous dam, Salute won as a 2-year-old and placed in a Grade 2 stakes. In addition to Snap Decision, she produced three graded winners on the flat topped by Grade 1 winner and millionaire Mr Speaker.

Snap Decision never got past the allowance ranks on the flat, winning twice and placing in a Grade 3 stakes as a 3-year-old. Late in a winless, eight-start campaign in 2018, he was sold for $75,000 as a steeplechase prospect.

He can thank timber horse Doc Cebu, a Hard Spun gelding who bottomed out in a $4,500 claimer as a flat horse but won 10 of his first 12 starts over jumps for Fenwick. The Maryland horseman admired Doc Cebu's toughness, saw Snap Decision in the entries and called neighbor Stuart Janney III to ask if the horse might be for sale. A Phipps cousin and frequent racing partner, Janney made a call and Snap Decision launched a new career.

Webb was there when he arrived.

"It took a bit for him to settle in," she said. "Most of them when they come off the track, it takes a bit for them to open up and show who they are in terms of being a horse. He had that presence, but he wasn't the same horse he is now personality wise."

Unveiled early in 2019, he finished second in a maiden hurdle at the Queen's Cup in late April and was second again in May at the Iroquois meet. He wouldn't lose again for more than two years – winning four in a row to close 2019, capturing all three starts in a Covid-shortened 2020 and sweeping two major stakes in spring 2021. The nine consecutive wins tied an American steeplechase record set by Thrice Worthy in the 1980s.

The Mean Queen (Ire) beat Snap Decision twice in 2021 – the second time by a half-length while in receipt of eight pounds – to claim the seasonal championship. Losing that second one, in the American Grand National-G1 at Far Hills in October, weighed on Snap Decision.

"He was depressed," said Webb. "He tried really hard, and he got beat. It was the first time I saw him with his head at the back of the stall and he didn't want anything to do with people. He knew he lost, and he wasn't happy about it. I was trying to give him peppermints after, and he was very not in the mood."

Snap Decision climbed back in the ring in 2022. Second in the Temple Gwathmey-G2 to start the season in April, he won his second Iroquois-G1 in May, finished a solid third in the Colonial Turf Cup Stakes at Colonial Downs in July (his first flat start in nearly four years) and manhandled six foes in the Jonathan Sheppard-G1 at Saratoga in August. He won by 13¼ lengths while carrying 164 pounds, 24 more than the runner-up and at least 11 more than the others.

"I wasn't there, but watching the race at home when he won by that huge margin in the Jonathan Sheppard was incredible," said Elliott. "It was like a Secretariat moment. You could see how great he was, knowing how much weight he was carrying. That was one where, as much as I love him, I was so glad I was not leading him up that day. He looked like he was really giving Sandra a hard time. He can get like that. If they take too long parading or something, you can really tell. He starts to get mad."

Webb still marvels at photos from that day, her last official race day as a Fisher employee.

"He's not a huge, huge horse but when he's puffing himself up to head somewhere he looks ginormous," said Webb, now a trainer based at Fair Hill Training Center. "It was the last time I was in Saratoga for Jack and it was just huge. He was carrying so much weight and ran so well."

Assigned 168 pounds for the Lonesome Glory-G1 at Aqueduct a month later, he finished second to 140-pound lightweight Noah And The Ark (Ire). A month after that, Irish shipper Hewick (Ire) won October's Grand National-G1 as Snap Decision faded to sixth in yielding turf. Eclipse voters went for the foreigner by 25 votes. Twenty-nine voters abstained.

Webb is over it, mostly.

"He's a happy horse, he doesn't care that he didn't win, but he should have been the champion; he had a great year," she said. "Hewick's a good horse, but he only ran one time in America."

As a 9-year-old in 2023, Snap Decision won two Grade 2 stakes but lost all three Grade 1 starts in a year where no horse won two races at the highest level. Merry Maker (Ire) edged Snap Decision 69-50 in an Eclipse vote split among six horses.

Back for more in 2024, Snap Decision won the Temple Gwathmey and Iroquois for the third time – each – and sat out the summer while barred from New York races because of a rule prohibiting horses older than 9. He missed four Grade 1 opportunities and five months of action.

He returned in a Grade 3 at Foxfield and finished third in soft going as stablemate Sebastopol (Ire) charged past late.

May 2024: Jockey Graham Watters and Snap Decision warm up for a record-tying third Iroquois win.

They hosted a crowd, including trainer Jack Fisher (right) in the Tennessee track's winner's circle afterward.

The race turned out to be the perfect prep as Snap Decision won a three-way stretch battle to capture the elusive Grand National over Irish raider Galvin (Ire) and former Group 1 flat horse High Definition. Both rivals passed Snap Decision in the stretch, but – between them – he fought back and scored by a neck. A half-length separated the trio at the finish.

Snap Decision earned $150,000, surpassed $1 million in career steeplechase earnings and silenced any critics.

"He gave it all he had, literally," said Randall. "If you watch the Grand National, he switched his own lead right before the finish and I don't think he would have won if he didn't. He was so proud of himself after that race."

A re-established Colonial Cup-G1 offered one final major stop in November. Snap Decision made the lead late, but settled for third behind Too Friendly (GB) and Noah And The Ark. The loss in South Carolina did little to diminish another standout campaign.

"He likes doing it, he enjoys racing and he takes it to heart when he doesn't perform well," said Randall. "It's like watching a sports team lose. We took him to Camden and he was very confused as to why he was still in training and why he was down south. He normally doesn't ship like that."

Back home in Maryland, the attitude shifted to turnout mode, and all was right with the world again. By January Snap Decision went back to work.

After winning tickets to the dinner, Jenna Elliott made the surprise presentation at the Eclipse Awards.

"I started switching some things around in the barn a couple weeks ago, and he changed," Randall said in early February. "He was very ready to get back into things this year. They started galloping this week and they even took them through the woods and he's all about that."

The first American-bred steeplechase champion since Demonstrative in 2014, Snap Decision gets a chance to add to his legacy this year. He can become the first four-time winner of the Temple Gwathmey (first run in 1924) and the first four-time winner of the Iroquois (1941). With $1,131,900, he enters at No. 2 on the all-time list behind McDynamo's $1,310,104 in United States purses earned. Lonesome Glory's record of $1,318,868 for an American-based steeplechase horse – which includes bonuses and three English starts – is within reach.

Out there in the darkness, Snap Decision can almost taste it.

Eclipse Moment

Like any racing fan, Jenna Elliott just wanted a look at the Eclipse Award finalists and went to the internet to check on the various categories. A promotion organized by the National Thoroughbred Racing Association and event sponsor Resolute Racing offered a chance to win two tickets to the event at The Breakers hotel in Palm Beach, Fla. Jan. 25.

"I was not going to go," Elliott said. "I was looking up things, two days before the contest was going to close, just looking up the other category finalists and on the side, it said click here to enter. I figured, why not?"

Two days later she got a call from the NTRA. From 340 entries, Elliott was chosen in a random drawing. Her plus one? Co-worker Ashley Randall. Once in Florida, Elliott wound up with a bigger job – announcing the steeplechase category winner.

"They did not tell me I was going to have to present the award," she said. "They said someone would ask a question about the horse and I could just say a little something about him. I got backstage and they handed me the card and said I was presenting the award. I was terrified."

Like Snap Decision, Elliott came through when it mattered– opening the envelope, announcing the winner and then helping accept along with the rest of the team.

The Skinny about Snap Decision

Groom Jenna Elliott answers some questions about the champion.

Could he pursue another career?

"I think he'd love show jumping. It's the same game, but not as far distance. If you taught him the game, you're jumping and turning and going fast, he'd be all about it. And he loves to stand around and watch. He'd love that part of it. He'd stand at a horse show all day."

What's he like to groom and take care of?

"He loves to be curried. He'll chase you around the stall to be curried, lean into you, show you exactly where to be curried. He does not like brushes. Pull out a brush, he pins his ears. He hates being brushed. Soft brush, hard brush, it doesn't matter. No brushes, just curries. He will, if you find the spot, stick his nose out in the air and wag his head. He's more goofy at home than he is at the races. At the races, he gets in a zone and sits in the back of his stall and won't want to be bothered. At home, he's like a goofy dog."

Have you ever ridden him?

"No [the answer came before the question was finished]. I'm not really a racehorse person and he's a little bit of a tougher ride. I don't want to ruin him. I've jogged some of them when they're coming back in the winter, but not that one. Maybe someday."

First jockey cheers for Snap Decision from new home Down Under

By Joe Clancy

TOD MARKS

Willie McCarthy and Snap Decision finish off the Entenmann Stakes at Belmont Park in 2019.

Willie McCarthy rode Snap Decision six times in 2019 – two seconds in maiden special weight company, then four successive wins. He never sat on the horse again. Going on six years later, he thought about how it all came to be, what happened and what it meant to him.

But first he pondered the idea of choosing to not ride Snap Decision.

"You'd want an angle grinder to get me off him," said McCarthy, an Irishman who spent 11 years in the United States and now rides in Australia.

It took a global pandemic and a broken neck.

Snap Decision went into 2020 a rising star for McCarthy, owner Bruton Street-US and trainer Jack Fisher, but Covid canceled the spring racing season. Horses finally raced at Middleburg in June and – in his fourth ride – McCarthy's mount State of Affair clipped heels and fell. The jockey broke three bones in his neck and missed the rest of the year.

"I was crying when it happened, but I wasn't crying about my neck," he said in February. "I was crying because Snap Decision was running in two weeks."

With Sean McDermott aboard, Snap Decision won that race at Great Meadow and two more at Saratoga. Covid played havoc with the 2020 autumn season, when no stakes races were carded, so Snap Decision didn't race again until 2021.

By then, McCarthy was in Australia – looking for another new beginning.

"I mainly wanted to come down here and just win a race to prove to myself I could still do it," he said. "The first day I rode two winners, and it took off."

The 41-year-old is one of Australia's top jump jockeys thanks to a partnership with the powerful barn of Ciaron and Declan Maher. McCarthy won the Tommy Corrigan Medal as the top jumps jockey of the 2021-22 Racing Victoria season. He won the 2021 Grand National Hurdle aboard Wil John (Aus), the 2022 Grand National Chase aboard St Arnicca (Aus), and piloted champion Stern Idol (Ire) to major wins over chase fences last year.

What have you learned from him?

"I don't know how to put into good terms, but mutual respect. He will 100 percent give you back what you give him. If you walk in there and you're expecting something of him, he's not about it. You have to give him his time and he'll give you your time. You can tell who has been around him for a long time and who he has decided to give his trust to. He'll do whatever those people want. He knows who his people are, and he can pick them out from crowds."

Co-owner Mike Hankin's new license plate says it all.

Though half a world away, McCarthy never forgot Snap Decision.

"He's definitely the best hurdler I've ever ridden, a hell of a horse, a horse of a lifetime," McCarthy said. "Stern Idol is a magnificent chaser and over hurdles Snap Decision would be that good of a horse. I have very fond memories of him. I wish I got to ride him for longer, but things happen. I was very, very sad to be leaving him in America."

McCarthy only got aboard because of a quirk the first time Snap Decision faced small hurdles at Fisher's farm. With Mikey Mitchell, the Hard Spun gelding refused to get near the things let alone jump them and won the argument. Days later, Fisher tapped McCarthy.

"He was a fierce intelligent horse, very smart horse and maybe he was a bit spooked by the rolls, but he didn't go over them anyway that day," McCarthy said. "He wasn't a bad actor or anything, and Mikey didn't do anything wrong, that's just the way it went. The next time, Jack told me to get on him."

Snap Decision took plenty of looks, but jumped and was McCarthy's mount the rest of the way. They finished second in their first two races together, after rating out the back early. The 5-year-old reversed course and led throughout against maidens at Monmouth Park to launch what would become a nine-race winning streak.

"We knew he had the ability, but I think it was the ideal situation for him that he didn't break his maiden right away," said McCarthy, who probably got a different opinion from Fisher in 2019. "I think that built his confidence."

Confidence would never be a problem again.

Off the July maiden win, Snap Decision won a Saratoga allowance race by 38½ lengths in August. After the race, McCarthy said, "There are plenty of Grades 1s to win with him." A month later, they won a novice stakes at Belmont Park and the jockey again talked up his horse. "He's the best horse I've ever ridden, and I know what I'm talking about."

The quotes sounded hyperbolic – then.

> "He was a beautiful horse and a lovely guy on the ground. Very, very smart, intelligent horse. I got pretty close to him in that sense too. We knew each other and trusted each other. That might have had a lot to do with his confidence and how he got so good. I gained huge confidence in him. I trusted him and he trusted me."
> – Willie McCarthy, on his early relationship with Snap Decision

McCarthy called the Belmont race the ultimate convincer. Going 2½ miles, Snap Decision bided time behind a slow pace until given his cue on the final run up the backstretch.

"We jumped the last fence, I let him go, and I almost came out the back of him," McCarthy said. "He took off like a motorbike with me. That's some feeling. When I was riding him, I would have said Saratoga was more his thing – 2 miles, on fast ground. To see him pace it out better and get out to 2½ miles and 3 miles is something. When I rode him, it was just contain him, contain him, contain him and then let him go."

He – and McCarthy – are still going. ■

JOHNSON LEAVES LEGACY OF THOROUGHBRED EXCELLENCE

By Joe Clancy

In January, Larry Johnson looked back on his best year in Thoroughbred racing, and ahead to the potential of an encore.

Paced by a homebred Grade 2 winner, horses he owned won 25 races and earned $1,675,720 in purses. A horse he bred and sold as a yearling for $600,000 in 2022 finished second in the Belmont Stakes-G1. The dams and siblings of those two stars – and a host of other winners – were in the pipeline at Johnson's Legacy Farm in Bluemont, Va., and training barns in the Mid-Atlantic and beyond.

"To think 2025 is going to look like that would be silly, but then again, I look at it and say, 'Why not?' " he said. "You have to temper your emotions and stuff, but I'm sure looking forward to this year."

Future Is Now, Mindframe and the others will have to carry on without him.

A Thoroughbred owner since the mid-1970s and a leading influence on the racing industries of Maryland and Virginia, Johnson died Feb. 4. He was 78. He leaves behind family, friends, dozens of Thoroughbreds and a big impact.

"This is one of those life lessons we learn," said Mike Trombetta, who trained for Johnson for more than 20 years. "The world's going to go on whether we're here to be part of it or not. This was not something any of us were ready for."

Johnson grew up in Mount Rainier, a small city in Prince George's County, Md., near the Washington, D.C., line. A CYO point guard, he thought he was good enough at basketball to enroll at nearby Hyattsville's DeMatha Catholic High (whose graduates include at least 20 NBA players).

Short answer, he wasn't.

"I was probably 5-foot-7 and there were three kids who could dunk the ball," he said in a 2023 interview for the Blueprint for Wealth podcast. Johnson transferred high schools, graduated and went to the University of Maryland. The pre-law program's foreign-language requirement sent him to the business school, where a principles of accounting course changed his life.

He graduated from Maryland in 1968 and got a job with the firm Ernst and Ernst (later Ernst and Whinney and then Ernst and Young). He spent 18 years there, becoming the youngest partner in company history.

"I'm first-generation college," he said in the podcast interview. "I grew up in today what would probably be referred to as the hood. I didn't know it as the hood. It was just where I lived. I had a mindset that I was going to do something different and I was going to be whatever the hell successful meant . . . and that kind of drove me."

In 1986, he started Johnson Lambert and Company, which grew into a business with eight offices and 150 people on staff. In 2000, he separated the company's forensic accounting and expert testimony services into Veris Consulting and five years later retired from Johnson Lambert. Veris continued until its sale in 2021.

In that podcast interview, Johnson referred to forensic accounting as "trying to look at economics and identify causes and implications of various kinds of events or transactions including circumstances where there has been apparent wrongdoing or instances of potential fraud . . . to try to put the pieces together to try and figure out why and who and how."

Veris worked on some of the biggest financial cases in history including the Enron bankruptcy, the Lehman Brothers investment bank collapse and the Ponzi scheme of Bernie Madoff.

"You've got to be a little not right in the head, but I enjoy cross-examinations," Johnson said of his work, "because I believe that's really a test of wits and a test of knowledge and the ability to think fast and to figure things out."

He might have said the same thing about being involved in racing.

Johnson thought fast, figured things out and generally worked at breeding and racing from the purchase of his first horses through to that banner 2024 nearly 50 years later. His grandfather, Earl Johnson, trained on the Mid-Atlantic's half-mile circuit with runners at Marlboro, Cumberland, Hagerstown, Charles Town, Shenandoah and other tracks.

"He was my idol growing up," Johnson said in January. "To be in the paddock when I was a 10-year-old kid, I didn't know it was a twelve-hundred-dollar claimer at Charles Town. I just knew it was the coolest thing ever."

In 1976, Larry put up $1,600 for half of $3,200 claim Doctor Po at Timonium. Six days later, with Earl the trainer, the Maryland-bred won and was claimed. Larry uttered the universal "This is easy" declaration, claimed more horses, and realized success and failure.

Two years later, he and some friends went to a sale at Timonium and spent $4,500 on three 2-year-olds. Beltway Traffic ($1,000) lost all three starts. Warkett ($1,100) lost all four. Ran's Chick ($2,400) bowed a tendon and never raced. Undaunted, Johnson bred the daughter of The Big Boss to Oliver Goldsmith's $1,000 stallion Red Monk. The resulting foal, Whatwouldhappenif, won 11 races and earned $52,653. Earl Johnson was there for her debut, a lopsided win at Pimlico April 18, 1983.

"One of the last races he ever watched was when she made her first start," Johnson said. "My grandfather thought it was the coolest thing he'd ever seen."

A trainer of boxers and horses, Earl died at age 81 in 1984. Ran's Chick was just getting started. Bred to Turn to Reason three times, High Brite twice and Parfaitement four times, as well as Wavering Monarch and Opening Verse, she produced 11 winners and still drives the pedigrees of many of Johnson's top horses. She is the fourth dam of Future Is Now and Mindframe via daughter Special Kell, herself a producer of six winners. Ran's Chick's first foal, Whatwouldhappenif, produced nine winners and on and on and on.

Somewhere Earl Johnson, memorialized by a stakes-placed nine-time winner named Hi Earl back there in the pedigree pages, is smiling.

"He thought it was a big deal to win at Shenandoah Downs going 4½ furlongs," Larry said. "He'd say, 'How the hell did you ever get there?' "

One step at a time.

Johnson bought, sold, raised and raced horses, added broodmares, invested in stallion shares and turned his operation into a flagship for regional and national success. Strike the Moon won at Aqueduct, Pimlico, Charles Town and Saratoga, placed in graded stakes and earned $680,170. Spun Glass, Sincerely, Street Magician and Despite the Odds won Grade 3 stakes. True Valour (Ire), Street Magician and Despite the Odds became regional stallions.

"We got to do some really good stuff with Future Is Now winning at Saratoga and winning the Franklin-G2 at Keeneland [in 2024]," said Trombetta. "When she won the Smart and Fancy at Saratoga he was there and got to enjoy the whole weekend up there with her. There are so many others out there. We won a lot of races together."

Trombetta and Johnson first connected over a purchase at the Equivest Sale at Timonium in 1989.

"One of my clients bought one of his horses, a yearling filly, for $900," Trombetta said. "And that horse turned out to be my first stakes winner. I had to look it up to put it all together but that's how we got to know each other."

The filly, Overdue Ghost, won the 1991 Betsy Ross Stakes at Philadelphia Park for Trombetta and Joseph Bertazon Jr. She won eight races and earned $96,510. Trombetta was just getting started as a trainer and Johnson had horses with other trainers over the years including Greg Wilson, Ronnie Cartwright, Graham Motion and Suzanne Dempsey.

"When I did well with her, down the road somewhere along the line I can't remember what or where, we got together and I've had horses for him and we've had horses together for as long as I can remember," said Trombetta. "We've bred and raised and raced horses together as he grew his operation over the years. It was a slow churn, but it worked and got better."

Wonderous Woman (a daughter of Special Kell) was an early Johnson/Trombetta winner in 2002, and others followed.

"He kept going with what he believed in and kept trying to improve with his horses," Trombetta said. "As he became a bit more successful, he invested more in it. He knew his stuff. I can't tell you how many times I asked questions – on pedigree, stallions, where they stood. He could remember all that stuff. Part of what you don't see is buying shares in stallions and he's had some good ones. He had a share in Quality Road, a share in Constitution and some really name horses."

Ferris Allen never trained horses for Johnson but knew him back to the early days of sending mares to Red Monk and boarding horses with Goldsmith. Johnson, Allen said, rarely wavered.

"He was the kind of guy who just went after stuff," the veteran trainer said. "You go back and cherry-pick the successes and gloss over the debacles, but that happens to everybody.

BARRIE B. REIGHTLER (3)

Larry Johnson's Legacy Farm in Bluemont, Va., has been the home base of his breeding operation for years, and also includes a training track.

All along, what was impressive about Larry was he was more than steady. He was always on attack and always getting after it in some very conscientious way. Guys who do that deserve a lot of credit . . . it's hard to think about who replaces that guy."

Hired six years ago, former steeplechase jockey Jonathan Smart oversees the 20 broodmares and other horses at Legacy Farm. Smart said Johnson's death created a "state of shock" at the farm, but the work goes on.

"This is my dream job and he was a dream boss," Smart said. "He'd tell me what he had in mind; if I thought it wasn't a good idea, he'd listen. He did the right thing with horses and he loved the game. I loved talking to him about the horses. He really worked at it."

Like many in Johnson's position, he talked about downsizing his horse operation to concentrate on quality over quantity.

"Then he'd buy three more horses," Smart said with a laugh. If you want evidence, look at recent history. Johnson bought Street Lute, a Maryland-bred regional stakes winner, for $200,000 at Keeneland in January 2024. She just had a foal by Gunite. At Keeneland November last fall, Johnson bought veteran Virginia-bred racehorse Determined Kingdom, now 3-year-old filly Mambo Queen and Avenue Niel (Ire), a 6-year-old mare with graded-stakes form.

Smart said that at least six yearlings on the farm are good enough to go to the Keeneland September sale this year. One, a Jack Christopher colt, is a half-brother to Mindframe and will be in demand.

"He's a May foal so I have to look at the calendar," Johnson said in January, "but I'm certainly going to put him in a sale."

His dam, Walk of Stars, was expecting a Constitution foal and will go back to that stallion this year meaning two full-siblings to Mindframe will continue the legacy.

"I'm so glad Mindframe came along," said Smart. "We really wanted to raise a Grade 1 winner and maybe a million-dollar baby for him. We almost got there."

Future Is Now's dam, Past as Prelude, is in foal to Charlatan and will be bred to Life Is Good. Johnson, constantly thinking, wondered whether he shouldn't have just sent her back to Future Is Now's sire Great Notion.

"What a cool horse," Johnson said of the region's leader. "He's the most undervalued, underappreciated stallion out there. He just gets good horse after good horse after good horse."

Larry Johnson-bred Mindframe (top left) and Johnson colorbearer Future Is Now played big parts in a banner 2024 season. Johnson bred and raced Street Magician, who went on to a successful career at stud in the region. Now 21, he enjoys semi-retirement at the Virginia farm.

Beyond owning and breeding, Johnson got involved. He served on several boards in the region, including the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association, Maryland Horse Breeders Association and Virginia Thoroughbred Association. No absentee member, Johnson spoke his mind, negotiated (sort of) and stood up for what he believed in.

"He was an absolute bull in a china shop to deal with in any board situation you were in," said Allen. "They were mostly good ideas, but you didn't want to be on the other side of an issue with him. I was a number of times, but he didn't hold it against me."

Trombetta agreed with Allen's assessment, but also drew a distinction.

"The Larry Johnson in the boardroom was a lot different than Larry Johnson the horse owner," he said. "If he believed in something and you tried to convince him otherwise, you better have your facts straight. He was very knowledgeable and in his element in that type of setting. He was a lot more relaxed and easygoing when it came to the day-to-day stuff with the horses."

Johnson's daughters Kelly Caraballo and Tracy Mulroy – namesakes of several homebreds – will keep that day-to-day stuff going for now.

"They very much were a part of what their dad did and they enjoyed the horses," Trombetta said. "This is obviously a big shock and it's going to take some understanding to figure out how the whole program works. Larry was the guy calling all the plays so to speak. There are a lot of moving parts."

In addition his daughters, Johnson is survived by five grandchildren, brother Michael Johnson and sister Barbara Johnson. Memorial contributions may be made to the Osteogenesis Imperfecta Foundation or the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation.

QUINT'S BREW EXTENDS PAYOFF FROM BERUBE'S BID ON DAM

By Paul Halloran

In his 84 years, it might be the best extra $500 Paul Berube has ever spent.

Berube had come up empty at the 2014 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic 2-year-old sale at Timonium, Md., with one horse left on his short list, a Jump Start filly. The bidding began at $6,000 and Berube hopped in at $8,000. Someone bid $9,000, Berube went to $10,000. No good; he was outbid at $11,000. He made what he anticipated being his last bid at $12,000.

"Thirteen-thousand," the auctioneer announced. Berube was out. Oddly, the hammer didn't drop. Would Berube be willing to go to $13,500?

Why not, he figured. Someone will outbid me anyway.

He got the horse, whom he would name Gansett, a tribute to Berube's Rhode Island roots and the venerable Narragansett Park.

"Without Gansett, there's no story," Berube said from his Franklin Township, Pa., home.

That would have been a shame, because there is already a tale to tell and there's no telling how it will end.

Gansett won twice in 11 starts before being retired in 2016 and becoming a broodmare. Berube sent her to Country Life Farm stallion Mosler four years in a row starting in 2017. The first foal, Pawtuck, brought only $4,500 at the 2019 fall yearling sale at Timonium and never raced. Captain Quint, born in 2019, had won four times and earned $150,479. Touisset, a 2020 foal, ended 2024 with four wins and $136,430 in earnings.

And it appears as if Gansett may have saved the best of the quartet for last with the gelding Quint's Brew.

Heading into 2025 with two wins in three starts but unraced since June, Quint's Brew dispatched eight Maryland-bred or -sired rivals in the Jennings Stakes at Laurel Jan. 18. The 6-length win came with a 98 Beyer Speed Figure and a stratospheric 121 Equibase number going a mile. To put that in perspective, White Abarrio earned a 122 from Equibase in winning the 2023 Whitney-G1 and a 116 in his Breeders' Cup Classic-G1 victory later that year.

A month later, in Laurel's winter feature for older horses, Quint's Brew did it again – blazing to a 5½-length score in the General George against open company Feb. 15. Worth $200,000 but downgraded to a listed race from Grade 3 this year, the 7-furlong test drew six runners. Quint's Brew manhandled them, revving up the numbers again with a 99 from Beyer and 124 from Equibase.

The Equibase figures (124 and 121) are the highest in the nation this year through Feb. 17 – any distance, any surface, any track.

Trainer Ned Allard, who took over the gelding's training in November after he was a late scratch in a Laurel allowance Oct. 31 when he injured his foot in the barn on race day, was impressed after the Jennings.

"He wowed me," Allard said. "To win at a mile like that after not running for 6½ months was impressive."

Mike Gorham trained Quint's Brew in his first three starts – maiden and allowance wins and a third in the Star de Naskra Stakes, in which he was moved up to second after being interfered with by winner Celtic Contender.

After the Laurel scratch, Berube moved the horse to Allard.

"I just thought it was time to change to another trainer," Berube said. "These things happen. Mike and I had an amicable conversation. He sent me a congratulatory text after the Jennings."

Quint's Brew storms to victory in the Jennings Stakes at Laurel Park in January. He backed up that win with another in the General George a month later.

Allard has been around the game long enough – he started working for George Handy in 1957 at Rockingham Park – to understand gaining and losing horses is part of the business.

"It happens," said Allard, who dominated New England racing in the 1970s and '80s before moving his operation to the Mid-Atlantic in 1989. "I used to get a lot of horses from Marilyn and Gil Campbell [her late husband]. She has a farm in Ocala and the Florida Stallion Series is too valuable to send them out."

After the Laurel scratch, Quint's Brew was sent back to Spinnaker Hill Farm, where he was broken by Heather Hunter, who owns 25 percent of the horse, as does Karen Linnell. He arrived at Allard's Delaware Park base in mid-November and had three timed workouts prior to the Jennings.

"He was training super and acting like a good horse, but you really don't know what kind of horse you have until you run them," Allard said. "Your predictions can be very wrong. As it turned out, this one was right."

And then some. Quint's Brew sat off leader Speedyness for the first 6 furlongs of the Jennings, pulled even around the turn without being asked and rolled through the stretch for a 6-length win in 1:37.53 under Mychel Sanchez. Older brother Captain Quint finished last.

"I never expected something like that," said Berube, the retired president of the Fair Hill, Md.-based Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau. "I thought he would run good, but the only question was, would he tire after the layoff. He worked well and Ned did a nice job. That was a pleasant surprise. We had some hopes for him."

The hopes got higher after that performance, prompting the connections to keep all options open in 2025.

"You need A, B and C plans," said Allard, well aware that Post Time won the Jennings and the General George last year to start a campaign in which he earned $975,000 with two graded stakes wins and three Grade 1 placings. "This horse acts like a good horse and he really enjoys being a racehorse. He's not there yet, but he looks like he has potential."

Allard, who trained 1985 champion 3-year-old filly and eventual member of racing's Hall of Fame Mom's Command, dares to dream about the Breeders' Cup, and not only for Quint's Brew. Alogon, a horse he trains for 98-year-old Charles Matses, is a stakes-winning turf sprinter who ran second to Nobals at Colonial Downs in 2023, one race before Nobals took the Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint-G1.

Maybe Quint's Brew can get Berube there.

"In four races, he has three nice wins and he got mugged in the Star de Naskra. Ned says he's a happy horse. We're conjuring up different races. Half the fun of this game is dreaming," said Berube, who worked concessions at Narragansett as a teenager and went to the track with his best friend Dick Riendeau and his father, a horse owner. Berube bought his first horse in 2006.

"Gansett is the only mare we have," he said. "When a homebred wins a race, it's a special thrill."

Gansett has a yearling colt by Holy Boss and was bred back to Mosler last year, but she absorbed the foal. This year she will go to Cyberknife, a $2 million earner on the track who stands at Spendthrift Farm.

Winter League

Laurel's winter meet, the first under the direction of new management, showcased a steady schedule of stakes action while mostly dodging weather cancelations. The Jan. 18 Jennings card featured three other stakes.

Larry Johnson homebred Call Another Play posted her first win since April 2024 with a 2-length score in the Geisha. Trained by Mike Trombetta, the 4-year-old filly let Royal Whisper set the pace, then took over in the stretch of the 1-mile stakes for Maryland-bred or -sired fillies and mares. Third in last year's Black-Eyed Susan-G2, Call Another Play won for the fifth time in 16 starts and boosted her lifetime earnings to $326,585. The daughter of Audible turned out to be the last winner of Johnson's lifetime as the long-successful regional owner/breeder passed away Feb. 4 at age 78.

Florida-bred Ms. Bucchero won her second consecutive stakes at Laurel in the 6-furlong What A Summer, hanging on to win by a nose over St. Benedict's Prep for Morici Racing Stable and trainer Diane Morici. The daughter of Bucchero won the Willa On the Move Stakes in November and improved to 8-for-15 lifetime in the What A Summer.

Prince of Jericho lived up to his favoritism while winning the 6½-furlong Fire Plug for trainer Brittany Russell and owners Michael Dubb and Morris Bailey. The 5-year-old son of Munnings has posted all seven wins at Laurel, including three stakes. He finished third in behind Quint's Brew in the General George.

A week later, 3-year-olds took the stage for two stakes Jan. 25. Maryland Juvenile winner Tony Eclipse got most of the attention before the $100,000 Spectacular Bid, but Barbadian Runner pulled off a mild upset for trainer Henry Walters and AJ Will Win Stables. Bred in Maryland by Shamrock Farm, the son of Barbados cost $5,000 as a yearling at Fasig-Tipton Midlantic, and won for the second time in nine starts in the 7-furlong race.

"He never showed he could be a stake winner," Walters said afterward. "But he always was a decent sort. We never had high expectations from the beginning, but he's been a nice surprise."

Barbadian Runner tracked the pace while four wide and in between horses under Forest Boyce as Scheduling Dude cleared from the outside post and took the early lead. The Aqueduct shipper stopped badly entering the turn as Crab Daddy inherited the lead while flanked by Hawkstone and Right Wing Runner. Meanwhile, Tony Eclipse was steadied and shuffled back to sixth.

Boyce followed Right Wing Runner, eased Barbadian Runner into the clear in the upper stretch and seized the lead while saving just enough to keep Crab Daddy at bay by a head.

"I had a perfect trip," Boyce said. "He's as game as they come. The last couple of times, he lugged in real bad. Today, a little bit, but not as much as before. He ran a little straighter today. I think that really made a big difference."

Walters notched his first stakes win since Basketball Court prevailed in the 2004 Horatius, also at Laurel.

Fillies got their chance in the $100,000 Xtra Heat at 6 furlongs and Onyx Ten continued her rise with a 1¾-length win for owner/breeder Frank Sample and trainer Gary Capuano. The Maryland-bred daughter of Street Magician rallied along the rail to pass Not Too Late and repelled a bid by Shkhara Fire late.

Onyx Ten was cutting back in trip after finishing second in a two-turn allowance Dec. 27. In that race, she was rank early, bid for the lead and faltered late.

JERRY DZEIRWINSKI (2)

A Maryland-bred champion in 2024, Call Another Play wins the Geisha, in what turned out to be the final win in the lifetime of owner/breeder Larry Johnson.

"She's a little nervous filly," said assistant trainer Tori Capuano. "She just needed to settle down. She finished great [in the Xtra Heat]. She didn't stop. She just kept going and galloped out good. She's a nice horse. I really like her."

NOTES: Dolice Vita and Everett's Song were the first horses to win two races at the meet, each taking starter-optional claimers in January and February. Jockey Jaime Lugo Jr. rode his first winner in North America when he rallied from off the pace aboard My Mamba in the third race Feb. 2. A native of Venezuela, Lugo was the regular pilot aboard Mi Querida Emma, who captured the Filly Triple Crown in Venezuela in 2023 . . . Jockey Jaime Rodriguez, Maryland's leading rider the last two seasons, booted home four winners on the Feb. 1 program, three for trainer Jamie Ness . . . The wife/husband and trainer/jockey duo of Brittany and Sheldon Russell won three maiden races Feb. 1 . . . Fourth behind Quint's Brew in the Jennings, Speedyness bypassed a rematch in the General George and wired the $100,000 John B. Campbell at 1⅛ miles Feb. 15. The son of Great Notion won for the seventh time in 17 starts for Morris Kernan Jr. and trainer/breeder Jamie Ness. ■

Huge Statement

GIGANTE MAKES $610,000 POINT FOR VIRGINIA BREEDING

By Ali Çetinok

Few results from the Fasig-Tipton Digital flash-sale concept have made as much noise as Gigante's $610,000 purchase by Clark Brewster and L and N Racing, a partnership of Tulsa, Okla., attorney Lee Levinson, his sons Andy and Michael, and family friend Don Nelson in January.

Gigante won the Grade 2 Secretariat at Colonial Downs in 2023.

The son of Not This Time, bred in Virginia by Ann Mudge Backer and Smitten Farm, had already proven himself on the track, and his price reflected his potential and pedigree. The 5-year-old, a Grade 2 stakes-winning millionaire, was consigned by Lane's End Farm from trainer Steve Asmussen's stable at Fair Grounds in New Orleans. Bidding through Fasig-Tipton's website began Jan. 27 and closed Jan. 31. A stakes winner every year from 2 to 5, Gigante won the Jan. 18 Col. E.R. Bradley Stakes and Dec. 21 Buddy Diliberto Memorial Stakes in his two prior starts before the sale. Eight for 20 lifetime, he's earned $1,189,400 (through Feb. 21).

Brewster, also a Tulsa-based attorney and longtime racing participant, saw a lot to like in Gigante, including a relationship with the horse's Hall of Fame trainer.

"Well, you know he's in great form. He was obviously a million-dollar earner. He was in outstanding physical condition, and as far as any vet issues, there were none. He's a striking specimen," Brewster said. "The trainer that had him – I'm familiar with him, he's trained horses for me – so there were just a lot of green lights."

Gigante's sire, Not This Time, was a key factor in Brewster's decision.

"One of the things that stood out was the sire – Not This Time. We also own Cogburn, who is the fastest horse in the world, and then Steve had Epicenter as well. We're very high on that sire, and I think he'll be a sire of sires," Brewster said. "Cogburn was booked full by December in his first year standing at WinStar, and he's been very popular. So that was part of it, too."

For Debbie Easter, executive director of the Virginia Thoroughbred Association, the sale wasn't just a win for the connections, it was a major boost for Virginia breeding and racing. Gigante's record includes two stakes wins and a maiden victory in four starts at the state's lone racetrack, Colonial Downs.

"Anytime you have a Virginia-bred of that quality running at Colonial Downs – just a quality horse on a national level – it's exciting for all of us," she said. "When he won the Secretariat (a Grade 2 stakes in 2023) and the governor and first lady were there, it made the day."

Gigante, out of the Empire Maker mare Summertime Green, sold for $120,000 as a yearling at Keeneland September in 2021. In addition to Gigante, Summertime Green has produced stakes winner Tryon Summer and the stakes-placed Contrabandist. Her dam Crab Grass won nine races (four stakes) for Backer's late husband Bill and trainer Barclay Tagg in the 1990s. Bill Backer bought Crab Grass' dam Deep Enough, a daughter or Raise a Native, for $35,000 in 1992.

Fasig-Tipton hosted its first traditional sale of 2025 with a winter mixed sale at its Kentucky facility Feb. 3. North Carolina breeder Nancy Shuford sold broodmare Athenian Beauty, the dam of Shuford-bred Southwest Stakes-G3 winner Speed King, for $150,000. Marylander Matt Dorman's Determined Stud made the purchase. In foal to Caracaro, the 14-year-old mare has also produced four-time winner Quantum Theory.

Laurel winner Suga Steve brings $80,000

Digital sales platforms have changed the way owners and trainers operate, and few know this better than Maryland based trainer Lacy Gaudet and owner Penwood Racing after Suga Steve sold for $80,000 to top the Inglis Digital USA February sale.

Gaudet and Penwood claimed Suga Steve for $20,000 Dec. 6. The now 4-year-old Goldencents colt won by 10½ lengths that day and added two more wins for his new connections – a $45,000 conditioned claiming race Dec. 27 and a first-level allowance Jan. 24.

"He ran huge the day we claimed him. We knew we had a nice horse on our hands and just let the condition book guide us," Gaudet said. "He had a certain condition right here in Maryland, where he was eligible to run against non-winners of three lifetime as a 3-year-old one more time in December," said Gaudet, whose horse came into that race with five wins. "That's why we wanted to get him into the stable quickly and take advantage of that condition."

With his two wins, Suga Steve earned $54,000 for Penwood and Guadet, who maximized an opportunity and entered him in the sale. Horses were listed Feb. 1, with bidding taking place over six days and closing Feb. 12. Suga Steve went to Rachel and Sean Gerson's Starry Night Racing for $80,000 – a solid return on investment in a little more than two months.

"The experience was fantastic," Gaudet said of Inglis, which hosts monthly sales. "Inglis reached out to us – that's great marketing on their part – and they offer incentives for sellers, which really drew us to them. I really think this is the future of the game. Not everyone is there yet, but it's coming. Owners want this. They want an easier way to get their hands on horses, and I think digital sales will continue to grow as a result."

In other Inglis February results, two no-guarantee seasons to Maryland stallion Great Notion sold for $4,250 each – to Mid-Atlantic trainer Anthony Farrior and regional owner Owen Kiernan.

Wasabi active at Keeneland January

Like Fasig-Tipton, Keeneland kicked off its 2025 sales calendar with a mixed sale Jan. 13-15. George Adams of Housatonic Bloodstock and Wasabi Ventures Stables played a role in partnership buyouts of two Maryland-bred yearlings.

First came a $30,000 purchase of Hip 60, a Candy Ride (Arg) filly out of the American Pharoah mare American Thriller, a Wasabi purchase in 2022. Hip 211, a Liam's Map colt out of the Gun Runner mare Gun Slingin, followed at $135,000. His dam, a full-sister to Grade 3 winner Disarm, was also purchased by Wasabi in 2022.

"Both of those were foal shares that Wasabi was buying out," said Adams. "We made the decision – these are the first foals for both dams and for their first matings, we decided to breed both on foal shares with proven stallions. They both happened to be at Lane's End [which sold both yearlings]. Both were foal shares to give them a chance with a proven stallion at a higher stud fee than what we would typically pay out of pocket.

"With foal shares, you have to sell the foals at auction. The stud farm takes half the proceeds, and the owner of the mare takes the other half. In this case, Wasabi decided to buy out both foal shares, so now they own each of those yearlings outright."

Also at Keeneland January, two Maryland-bred mares brought six figures.

Holiday Blues, who won three races for breeder Marathon Farms and trainer Robin Graham before being sold as an in-foal broodmare in 2018, brought $210,000 on a bid by Maytime Bloodstock. The daughter of Ghostzapper has produced stakes winner Panther Island and one other winner from two to race. She sold in foal to Arcangelo.

Petition Prayer, a Divining Rod mare in foal to McKinzie – she delivered a colt five days later – sold for $180,000 to Scott and Evan Dilworth Jan. 13. She won three races and placed in a stakes for Men's Grille Racing and trainer Hammy Smith before selling as a broodmare prospect in December 2023.

Pennsylvania-bred mare Crystalology, a half-sister to Grade 2 winner Roses for Debra, sold for $150,000 to Wind Hill Farm while in foal to Life Is Good. Bred by Blackstone Farm, Crystalology sold for $17,000 as a yearling, won one race, brought $22,000 as a broodmare prospect in December 2022 and failed to reach her reserve at $145,000 while in foal to Good Magic in 2023.

Agent Scott Mallory sold a Maryland-bred yearling to Springhouse Farm for $100,000. The Golden Pal filly is the first out of Poronui, a Pioneerof the Nile mare purchased by frequent Maryland breeder Barak Farm in 2023 for $110,000.

Hip 24, a Virginia-bred yearling filly by Quality Road, sold for $150,000 to Dixiana Farm. The bay filly, bred by Morgan's Ford Farm, is out of Un Blessed (by Mineshaft), whose four winners include Grade 2 Chess Chief. Candy Doll, a 2021 daughter of Candy Ride (Arg) and Un Blessed, sold for $90,000 to Hidden Spring Farm as a racing/broodmare prospect. She won a maiden race at Colonial Downs last summer.

Hip 5 at the sale, a South Carolina-bred yearling filly by Vekoma, sold for $50,000 to Duvall Equine. Consigned by Eaton Sales, the chestnut filly is out of the Tale of the Cat mare Taylor's Wildcat. ■

RETIRED RACEHORSE PROJECT

Tip of the Iceberg

AFTER 15 YEARS, RETIRED RACEHORSE PROJECT LOOKS AHEAD

By Kirsten Green

Steuart Pittman Jr., now the county executive for Maryland's Anne Arundel County, is a life-long horseman who, prior to his career in local politics, made a name and a living for himself on the backs of off-track Thoroughbreds.

By the late 2000s, Pittman had produced his Thoroughbred stallion, Salute the Truth (a Maryland-bred who raced under the name Boy Done Good), to the advanced level of eventing and was standing him as a sport-horse sire on the family farm. Despite personal success with and reverence for the breed, Pittman was struck by how Thoroughbreds had fallen out of favor in the show ring. Equestrians who knew how to train, care for, and teach others to ride Thoroughbreds were few and far between. Purpose-bred warmbloods and stock breeds took over at the highest levels of the sport and the days where Thoroughbreds were the preferred mount of the Olympic eventing and show-jumping squads were long gone.

To hear Pittman describe the basis of founding what was originally the Retired Racehorse Training Project was beautifully simplistic: there was a supply-and-demand problem. There were more Thoroughbreds retiring from racing than there were riders who knew how to do right by them. If you educated the riders, gave them the resources they needed to be effective with the breed, they would see everything Thoroughbreds had to offer. Add marketing to the mix to promote the breed and the demand would come back, prices would go up, and fewer horses would land in at-risk situations.

Pittman organized the Retired Racehorse Training Symposium in 2009 and received charitable status in 2010. The booth he used to promote Salute the Truth at the Timonium, Md., and Harrisburg, Pa., Horse World Expos gave way to being used for the nascent RRTP, which started organizing demonstrations and short-term training challenges on the winter expo circuit. In 2013 and 2014 the organization ran the pilot versions of the Thoroughbred Makeover on the homestretch of Baltimore's Pimlico Race Course, ultimately taking the plunge to bring the competition to Lexington, Ky., in 2015.

Phase One: Accomplished

To boil down the RRP's charitable mission to one statement, it's "to increase demand for Thoroughbred ex-racehorses," or sometimes worded as "a market-based approach to aftercare" and data shows the impact made so far. Over the last 10 years, the organization has diligently collected an ever-expanding set of data that offers insight into how horses move through a variety of aftercare channels into their next careers.

The RRP has directly impacted the transition of more than 5,000 horses via the Thoroughbred Makeover, leveraging what is estimated to be in excess of $46 million into their care. In 2016, the first year for which we have a comprehensive analysis of Makeover entries, it cost an average of $1,570 to acquire a horse eligible for the training competition. In 2024 that figure was $3,067. Even when adjusted for inflation ($1,570 in 2016 is equivalent to $2,043 as of the end of 2024), that's still a 50-percent improvement in market value. Further, in 2024 the average Makeover entry earned nearly $92,000 over 18 starts, a 30-percent improvement in earnings ($54,677 in earnings in 2016 is equivalent to $71,178 in 2024) and a 14-percent decrease in average starts, indicating a possible trend toward proactive retirement from a higher level of racing.

The RRP has been a Thoroughbred Charities of America grantee since 2012 and received TCA's industry service award in 2014.

"TCA believes strongly in supporting not only traditional Thoroughbred aftercare facilities, but also the organizations that are creating a market for former racers," said TCA executive director Erin Halliwell. "When TCA made our first grant to the RRP in 2012, there were many programs working to rehab, retrain and rehome Thoroughbreds but the effort to increase demand and incentivize riders to choose a Thoroughbred as their next mount was just beginning."

Education, service and inspiration remain strong in the RRP's DNA. The organization regularly produces clinics and webinars, adds original content to its curated educational library, and maintains a free horse listing service exclusive to Thoroughbreds at any stage. Thoroughbred Makeover entrants have ranged from blue-collar claimers to regional fan favorites Eighttofasttocatch and Icabad Crane, up to Eclipse Award-winning sprinter Whitmore and the first son of Zenyatta, Cozmic One, proving that all horses need an aftercare plan, and they can all shine off the track as well as on.

In a way, success can be measured by the response to the variety of horses taking part in the Makeover. It's not particularly impressive anymore to show that off-track Thoroughbreds can do all sorts of riding jobs and do them well, because it's common knowledge now.

These statistics, milestones and highlights represent a solid impact. Call them phase one, because the RRP has effected change on an industry. The landscape will surely change, and the goal posts will move – in a good way. The view from the 15-year line says there's still a lot more work to do. The work will likely become more complex and nuanced, calling for greater engagement from the racing industry.

Two Steps Forward and One Step ... In Place

Past RRP executive director Jen Roytz took over from Pittman at the beginning of 2018 after serving for five years on its board of directors. These days she can be found at Brownstead Farm, where she and her husband run a boutique breeding and retraining operation. When asked to reflect upon the last 10-20 years and how the aftercare industry has evolved, she spoke to the vastly improved awareness and accountability within the racing industry when it comes to responsible retirement. Connections are increasingly savvy and well-informed on what is required to follow through on appropriate retirement for horses, and racetracks and racing commissions impose more robust equine-welfare policies for trainers to retain stalls and licensure.

"When TCA made our first grant to the RRP in 2012, there were many programs working to rehab, retrain and rehome Thoroughbreds but the effort to increase demand and incentivize riders to choose a Thoroughbred as their next mount was just beginning."

– Erin Halliwell, executive director of Thoroughbred Charities of America

In equestrian communities, Roytz acknowledged a resurgence in Thoroughbred popularity but admitted that there is still a stigma among riders that the breed can't seem to shake.

"In many cases, one of the main motivating factors for people to choose Thoroughbreds is budget," said Roytz. "Many equestrians, especially those at the higher levels of the sport, look at the Thoroughbred as a 'poor man's horse' – it's what people buy when they can't afford something 'better.' "

While the cost of acquisition within the Makeover entry population shows improvement, that hasn't translated over to the resale value. Makeover graduates and off-track Thoroughbreds with about a year of retraining post-track are typically advertised in the range of $10,000-$15,000. When you consider that Makeover trainers reported investing an average of $11,400 (not including the cost of acquisition) in their horses' care over the term of their 2024 Makeover preparations, it becomes clear that retraining Thoroughbreds is still far from lucrative. For context on just how much the breed's standing has shifted in the sport-horse market, Pittman bought Salute the Truth upon retirement from racing with a suspensory injury in 1999 for $10,000. That's more than $19,000 in today's market. Selling a newly retired Thoroughbred straight off the track today for $10,000 is an exceptional occurrence. Paying $19,000 for a horse with an active injury and no retraining would be unheard of.

You might observe the contracting foal crop, falling number of annual starters and dramatically lower number of horses (all breeds) being exported for slaughter and wonder how relevant the aftercare industry even is at this stage. When reviewing positive trends within the Makeover entry population against the overall lower volume described above, there is an inherent bias within the data: these are horses who were ready to move right into their next careers, and it does not fully reflect the scope of need for rehabilitative homes for retirees.

Former RRP board member and chair (2015-2022) Sue Smith, who has operated the Pennsylvania chapter of CANTER (which mainly serves Penn National racetrack) since 2010, offers a broader perspective.

"I see firsthand how a shortage of racing stock affects the number and condition of horses retiring," she said. "The value of horses eligible to race, no matter how competitive they are, is holding stronger than their value as sport-horse prospects."

These economics lead to horses running for a prolonged time at the claiming level, increasing the likelihood that they retire permanently limited or in need of significant rehab. Buyers are increasingly risk averse when it comes to prepurchase exam findings and this, coupled with limited experience with racing injuries, often means these horses end up requiring resource-consuming long-term care in an accredited nonprofit aftercare facility.

What's Needed Today, Going Forward?

There is no officially compiled number of horses retiring from racing in North America, although we're hopeful that we will gain better insights as The Jockey Club's traceability initiative advances.

If you're a fan of spreadsheeting and wanted to take a deep dive into Equibase and The Jockey Club Fact Book, you can render an informed guess based on annual foal registrations compared to annual starts by foal year.

The rough estimate is somewhere between 9,000 and 12,000 horses a year make their last starts and don't have a record or pedigree that warrants them going into the breeding industry. Do some quick math on this, multiplying the possible number of retirees by the estimated average aftercare investment Makeover trainers make, and compare the figure you get to annual aftercare grant announcements. It's simply not enough.

Here's a bold statement. The biggest misstep we made in formalizing an aftercare industry was to make it charity-driven. One of the reasons charities are given their tax status is because they're engaging in an effort to alleviate a problem that's impacting the community they serve. By aligning the aftercare stage of a horse's lifecycle with charitable connotations, we have created the mentality that aftercare is a charitable endeavor that you opt into to support efforts to alleviate a problem, rather than simply a cost of doing business. Thus, we fight to overcome the charity-case narrative that's attached itself to the breed and the depressed market that comes with it.

Fundamentally, any charity should strive to be successful to the point that we eliminate the need to exist. A common strategic-planning activity for non-profits is a vision statement exercise, wherein you try to define what it would look like if you achieved just that. What would the world look like when your work was complete? Here's what the RRP staff identified as necessary to achieve if the RRP were to satisfy its mission and what we will be using to guide the next 15 years of our work:

The Thoroughbred needs a breed registry that extends beyond the racing industry so that the breed's influence on sport and sport breeding can be properly quantified and highlighted. Without data, we're not going to be able to overcome the state of cognitive dissonance required to write "No Thoroughbreds" in a want ad but then consider a warmblood prospect who is three-quarters or seven-eighths Thoroughbred. Accomplishing this would significantly bolster traceability efforts.

There are not enough equine facilities with non-profit status to adequately service the full scope of aftercare needs. We need to acknowledge the contributions of, and engage with, the open market, which is already doing the lion's share of the work of transitioning horses to their next careers. There needs to be accreditation and financial incentives for individuals and businesses as a counterpart to the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance, instilling the same sense of confidence in private businesses that our community has in TAA-accredited organizations. This would allow us to organize and mobilize a complete aftercare community when needed and allow charities to focus on being a safety net for at-risk horses.

And possibly the most essential: we need to continue to emphasize the critical importance of planning a breeding with a complete lifecycle in mind. The reality is that Thoroughbred breeders are breeding horses statistically likely to spend more of their lifetime as riding horses than anything else, including many of the successful ones, and the sooner we can learn to embrace that and let go of the concept of it being a bad thing, the better. Consider the equestrian to be your client, too. We all want them to get the speed genes, but durability, temperament, movement and soundness will serve them well beyond racing.

Smith put it perfectly: "The greatest kindness we can offer our horses is to create value: value equals security. Teaching them marketable skills can change the trajectory of their lives and elevate their quality of life." ■

BY RICK ABBOTT

Eight years, missing it or not

I awoke the morning of Nov. 16, 2024, and realized it had been eight years, to the day, since Dixie and I pulled up stakes and moved out of Charlton, our home and place of business for the previous 36 years. Eight years gone in a flash. It seemed like yesterday that we watched the last horses leave the farm and the last trash container carry away the detritus of a career and a period of our lives we would never get back.

In my mind I started to compare life on the farm and in the horse business with the last eight years and to think about what I did and didn't miss about that period in our lives.

I miss being able to look out my window and not see anything that wasn't part of the farm. We were fortunate to live at the end of a long farm lane on a bowl-shaped, 157-acre slice of Chester County, Pennsylvania. From any of the road frontage you could not see any of the buildings. Workmen often remarked that they had grown up in the area and never known the farm existed. They say true luxury is not owning curtains and we never did.

I don't miss trying to explain to van and UPS drivers how to find "10 Abbott Lane," the GPS address for our nondescript little driveway technically in Cochranville but with a Coatesville mailing address. I once got a late-night call from a van driver looking for the farm in Cochranton, which is north of Pittsburgh and about 300 miles away.

I miss the quiet, peace and tranquility afforded by the isolated location at the end of a long farm lane.

I don't miss the isolation at the end of that long farm lane when 6-10 inches of blowing snow could leave us stranded for a week in the middle of foaling season dipping water out of the stream and foaling mares by flashlight.

I miss the brilliant sunsets over the open fields dotted with mares and their foals peacefully grazing on a summer's evening.

I don't miss the sunrises in March and trudging up to the house after a three-foal night in the barn. Although, a three-foal night probably meant I'd sleep well the next night.

I miss the Monday morning trips to the hay sale in New Holland where I'd catch up with fellow horsemen while avoiding the horse sale barn.

I don't miss the confrontation with the hay man when the load I bought was not of the quality he had represented.

I miss the smell of alfalfa.

I don't miss the smell of foal diarrhea.

I miss my nightly walk through the barn just before going to bed. All is peaceful and the only sound is the chewing of happy horses.

I don't miss the occasional night when that peaceful sound was broken by the pawing of a colicky post-partum mare.

I miss driving the van to the breeding shed and catching up with Louis, Josh, Paul or Tim as well as seeing a stallion enter the shed in all his glory and just take over the place.

I don't miss driving the van to New Bolton Center at 3 a.m. and having Andrew Debenham greet me at the loading ramp.

I miss the phone call to clients to let them know that their mare had a healthy colt the night before.

I don't miss the 3 a.m. call from the front seat of the van on the way to New Bolton.

I miss visiting clients' farms and finding the "diamond in the rough" I know I can sell at Keeneland September.

I don't miss feeling like a college admissions officer when I'd tell a breeder her foal just doesn't justify the $3,000 cost of going through the sales ring.

I miss the intricate puzzle involved in mating a herd of mares and waiting to see the results of hopes, dreams and hare-brained ideas.

I don't miss slipped foals, barren mares and no-guarantee seasons.

I miss knowing when to start mowing before the grass gets away from me and is too thick for the mower.

I don't miss weed eating.

I miss the sight of a beautifully straight fence line across the crest of a hill in the evening.

I don't miss the 7 a.m. call about a broken fence and loose or missing horses.

I miss green pastures in April, May and June.

I don't miss mud whenever.

I miss foaling mares, both the foaling mares themselves and the job of being in the stall when two front feet and a nose told me all I needed to know.

I don't miss one foot and a nose, or any variation thereon.

I miss milking the post-partum mare and watching as her foal's suck reflex kicks in and takes off.

I don't miss milk-less mares or foals that don't nurse or have trouble standing on their own.

I miss carpentry work around the farm. It's why I'm a woodworker today.

I don't miss any machine that won't start. I am the world's worst mechanic.

I miss the sales. From the first, I was fascinated that we would take our horses to a place on a given day and a few days later we would return home without the horses and with money. Having seen with show horses that it could take years to sell a horse, even if you dropped the price, I quickly became enamored with the auction process and its biggest advocate.

I don't miss the guessing game of placing reserves on sale horses. Even though I was pretty good at it and took pride in not buying back many horses, I always took it too personally if the market disagreed with my assessment of a horse's value.

I miss coming home from the October yearling sale and walking through an entirely empty barn.

I don't miss having to bring horses home.

Dixie and I believe we retired when the time was right for us. With no next generation to take over the farm or the business and the dramatically changing sales landscape, we feel our timing was spot on.

We loved our farm and loved raising our children there. It was hard to leave but we're very happy on our two acres in Unionville, still surrounded by open fields and beautiful sunsets – with no slipped foals, no late-night emergencies and, best of all, NO MUD. ■

Post Time

2024 Maryland-bred Horse of the Year, Champion Older Male, Champion Sprinter

Gr./ro.h., 2020, Frosted—Vielsalm, by Fairbanks.
Bred by Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowman, Dr. Brooke Bowman and Milton Higgins III. Owned by Hillwood Stable. Trained by Brittany Russell. Foaled at Dance Forth at Roland, Warwick.

Westchester-G3; 3rd Whitney-G1, Cigar Mile-G2

2024 Record: 9-4-3-2, $975,000

One of the most consistent older runners in the nation in 2024 while racing exclusively in stakes, as well as being a multiple graded stakes winner and new millionaire, Post Time was the unanimous choice as Maryland-bred Horse of the Year and older male. He also took the champion sprinter title in a close race with graded stakes winners Jaxon Traveler and Future Is Now.

Campaigned by the Hillwood Stable of Ellen Charles, trained by Brittany Russell and ridden all year by the trainer's husband Sheldon Russell, Post Time raced nine times and never finished worse than third while earning $975,000, the most of any Maryland-bred runner. His four wins included Laurel Park's Grade 3 General George and Aqueduct's Grade 2 Carter in back-to-back starts going 7 furlongs. He kicked off his season with a win in the Jennings for statebreds in January at Laurel and recorded his final win in the Polynesian in his Laurel return in September.

Grade 1 efforts proved the gray ranked with the best in the nation.

His first trip to Saratoga yielded a closing second behind eventual Eclipse Award winner National Treasure in the Metropolitan Handicap in May. Back to upstate New York in August, he finished ahead of National Treasure when third in the 1 1/8-mile Whitney, Post Time's first start beyond a mile. Then, on racing's Breeders' Cup stage, he rallied from last of 13 to finish second in the Dirt Mile at Del Mar.

A Maryland-bred champion at 2, a stakes winner at 3, and a winner of eight of his first nine starts, Post Time has a lifetime record of 15-9-3-3 and $1,227,910 in earnings. The son of Frosted was bred by Tom and Chris Bowman, their son Dr. Brooke Bowman, and longtime partner Milton Higgins III out of the stakes-winning Fairbanks mare Vielsalm, Maryland's Broodmare of the Year for 2024. Post Time sold as a yearling at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic fall sale to Cary Frommer for $85,000. ❧

Studlydoright

2024 Maryland-bred Champion 2-Year-Old Male

Ch.c., 2022, Nyquist—Peach of a Gal, by Curlin.
Bred by Glenangus Farm. Owned by David Hughes.
Trained by John J. Robb. Foaled at Roland Farm, Chesapeake City.

Like the votes for Post Time in the Horse of the Year and older male categories, this one went one direction. A freshman season like Studlydoright's will make you understand why he received all votes for the 2024 Maryland-bred champion 2-year-old male.

He won his maiden at first asking in a 4½-furlong dash at Laurel Park May 5. In his second start, he won the $150,000 Tremont Stakes at Saratoga June 6 to become the first Maryland-bred juvenile stakes winner of 2024. He then finished second by a length in the Sanford Stakes-G3 at the Spa July 13. He followed this up with an off-the-board finish in the Hopeful-G1 in upstate New York in early September.

On Sept. 28, Studlydoright finished second in the $150,000 Laurel Futurity going a mile before making a fourth trip to New York for the $150,000 Nashua Stakes Nov. 2. The Nyquist colt shined in the Big Apple, again, scoring by a half-length over Vekoma Rides with fellow Maryland-bred Tony Eclipse third.

Studlydoright ended his freshman season by finishing fourth in the $250,000 Remsen Stakes-G2 going 1⅛ miles at Aqueduct Dec. 7. He ended 2024 with three wins from seven starts for a bankroll of $279,680.

The champion was bred by Jim Dresher's Glenangus Farm and purchased at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic fall yearling sale for $110,000 by owner David Hughes' Men's Grille Racing and trainer John "Jerry" Robb.

Studlydoright is the second foal, and first winner, out of Dresher's homebred stakes winner Peach of a Gal. The Curlin mare won Delaware Park's Christiana Stakes and finished third in the Suwannee River-G3 at Gulfstream Park. She is a sibling to eight winners, including four-time stakes winner Concealed Identity, 2024 Find Stakes winner Riccio, stakes-placed Cu Rahy and Rich Love, the dam of multiple graded stakes winner Ruby Nell. Dresher bought Peach of a Gal's dam Richetta, a four-time stakes winner, from Tom Bowman with hopes of making her a foundation broodmare. Now 24 and retired on the farm near Bel Air, the daughter of Polish Numbers is well on her way. ❧

Shkhara Fire

2024 Maryland-bred Champion 2-Year-Old Filly

Ch.f., 2022, Friesan Fire—Rysy, by Langfuhr.
Bred and owned by Barak Farm and Dino's Thoroughbreds.
Trained by Jose Corrales. Foaled at Shamrock Farm, Woodbine.

$100,000 Maryland Million Lassie

2024 record: 7-2-1-0, $104,090

Jim McCue

Sometimes it can take awhile for athletes to make a name for themselves. Some even have a sort of "rookie-itis." Shkhara Fire broke her maiden in her second start at Laurel Park June 7, but it took another four months to truly find her status.

She followed up the maiden win with a fourth in her stakes debut in the $150,000 Keswick Aug. 3 at Colonial Downs. After that came a sixth in a Timonium allowance Aug. 31. Then came the breakthrough.

Shkhara Fire started last of 12 in October's $100,000 Maryland Million Lassie, but the 2-year-old Friesan Fire filly crossed the wire first in the 6-furlong event. The stakes win went a long way to helping her secure the 2024 Maryland-bred juvenile filly crown in a close vote over Beautiful Blome. Each received seven first-place votes, with Shkhara Fire prevailing in the points system 69-57. Six horses received first-place votes, the most of any divisional category.

Trained by Jose Corrales for owners/breeder Barak Farm and Dino's Thoroughbreds, Shkhara Fire is the sixth foal out of the unraced Langfuhr mare Rysy, and the mare's second stakes performer. Her Maryland-bred daughter Buckey's Charm (by Kantharos) finished second in the 2020 Anne Arundel County Stakes at Laurel

Mindframe

2024 Maryland-bred Champion 3-Year-Old Male

Dk.b/br.c., 2021, Constitution—Walk of Stars, by Street Sense. Bred by R. Larry Johnson. Owned by Repole Stable and St. Elias Stables. Trained by Todd Pletcher. Foaled at Dance Forth Farm, Chestertown.

2nd Belmont-G1, Haskell-G1

Coglianese Photography

Mindframe burst onto the scene at Gulfstream Park in late March when trainer Todd Pletcher targeted a 7-furlong maiden special weight for the 3-year-old who cost $600,000 as a yearling. In his career debut, the even-money favorite thumped 10 rivals by 13¾ lengths. On Kentucky Derby Day at Churchill Downs, he buzzed through a first-level allowance by 7½ lengths going 1⅛ miles.

While sensational, you need more to be named Maryland-bred champion 3-year-old male of 2024. He took care of that in just two more starts.

The Repole Stable and St. Elias Stables runner made headlines when entered in the 1¼-mile Belmont Stakes-G1 at Saratoga in June, just his third lifetime start against the likes of Derby winner Mystik Dan, Derby runner-up Sierra Leone and Preakness winner Seize the Grey in a field of 10.

Mindframe almost pulled it off. Grabbing the lead in the stretch, he drifted out, lost the lead to Dornoch, and came on again to miss by a half-length. Mindframe turned in a similar performance six weeks later when he overcame a poor start, went wide around the far turn, grabbed the lead into the stretch, drifted out, then in, and missed again to Dornoch in Monmouth Park's Haskell-G1.

Mindframe's four starts yielded $647,360, by far the highest among Maryland-bred 3-year-olds and second only to Post Time.

Bone bruising sidelined the son of Constitution last summer, but he's back in training with a possible 4-year-old debut in March.

Mindframe is one of three 2024 Maryland-bred champions for Maryland Breeder of the Year R. Larry Johnson, who bred and raced the colt's first three dams: stakes winner Walk of Stars (by Street Sense), winner Star Kell (by Star de Naskra) and stakes winner Special Kell (by Parfaitement). Johnson, who died in February, bought Special Kell's dam Ran's Chick in 1978.

Call Another Play

2024 Maryland-bred Champion 3-Year-Old Filly

Ch.f., 2021, Audible—Past as Prelude, by Bernardini. Bred and owned by R. Larry Johnson. Trained by Mike Trombetta. Foaled at Dance Forth Farm, Chestertown.

$125,000 Weber City Mis; 2nd Searching; 3rd George E. Mitchell Black-Eyed Susan-G2

2024 record: 10-3-1-2, $214,775

Jim McCue

Call Another Play became the first stakes winner for Larry Johnson's homebred Bernardini mare Past as Prelude in Laurel Park's Weber City Miss for 3-year-old fillies

April 20, her third straight win of 2024 and a race which gave her an automatic entry for the Black-Eyed Susan Stakes-G2 on Preakness Weekend at Pimlico. Less than a month later, she finished a game third behind Gun Song, while just missing second by a neck.

With those early exploits, and a summer that included a fourth in the Delaware Oaks-G3 behind future Alabama Stakes-G1 winner Power Squeeze, plus a second in the Searching Stakes, Call Another Play took the Maryland-bred 3-year-old filly championship.

The daughter of Audible won a maiden special weight at 2, but dropped into the claiming ranks that year. She ran for $40,000 in her first start at 3 in January and finished third. She returned for the same price the next month and won. The price rose to $62,500 in March; she won by 6¼ lengths and still no takers. Then she became a stakes winner. By the end of the year, she won or placed in six of her 10 starts and earned $214,775. She opened 2025 by winning Laurel's Geisha Stakes in January.

Past as Prelude was foaled in Kentucky out of Johnson's Maryland-bred mare Magical Meadow, an unraced daughter of Meadowlake who also produced graded winner and longtime Maryland sire Street Magician. The family, tracing back to Johnson's foundation mare Ran's Chick, includes 2024 Maryland-bred champion 3-year-old male Mindframe.

Two races before Call Another Play went to the post for the Black-Eyed Susan in May, her year-older half-sister – and fellow Maryland-bred champion – Future Is Now (by Great Notion) got her first stakes win in the The Very One.

Future Is Now

2024 Maryland-bred Champion Older Female Champion Turf Runner

B.m., 2020, Great Notion—Past as Prelude, by Bernardini.
Bred and owned by R. Larry Johnson. Trained by Mike Trombetta.
Foaled at Roland Farm, Chesapeake City.

$300,000 Franklin-G2, $200,000 Intercontinental S-G2, $150,000 Smart and Fancy, $100,000 The Very One; 2nd Captiva Island; 3rd Caress-G3

2024 record: 9-5-1-1, $513,155

Jim McCue

From May through October, Larry Johnson's homebred Future Is Now was one of the best female turf sprinters in the country. During a five-race stretch, all stakes, the daughter of Great Notion won four races, two graded, and set a stakes record at Keeneland. Her $513,155 bankroll topped all Maryland-bred distaffers in 2024.

She joined Post Time as a multiple champion in 2024, landing the older female and turf runner titles. She was also one of two champions for dam Past as Prelude, as half-sister Call Another Play won the 3-year-old filly crown.

Unraced at 2 and a two-time allowance winner at 3, Future Is Now has made all but two of 14 career starts at 5 and 5½ furlongs. Trainer Mike Trombetta found opportunities once a month from January through August. She won a Gulfstream Park allowance in her second start, leading all the way through fractions of :20.67 and :42.75, for a final time of :54.27 for 5 furlongs. A month later she gave way late over the same course and distance in the Captiva Island Stakes, finishing second by a half-length.

As Call Another Play made headlines with an April stakes win, Future Is Now ran one race earlier on the same Laurel Park card against males in the King T. Leatherbury Stakes. She battled for the lead, which softened her up for the late chargers, and faded to fifth, 3½ lengths behind winner Witty.

Future Is Now was almost unstoppable the rest of the way. Her first stakes win came on Black-Eyed Susan Day as she won as the favorite off a stalking trip in Pimlico's The Very One. Three weeks later, she shipped to Saratoga for Belmont Stakes weekend and won the Intercontinental-G2 at 10-1 by a head over favorite Roses for Debra. Back in Saratoga for the Caress-G3 in July, the bay mare flew through splits of :21.49, :43.82 and :55.39 but wound up third in a four-horse photo.

She made her third Saratoga start of 2024 in the Smart and Fancy in August, and did her state proud with a half-length win in a race named for the 2008 Maryland-bred older female champion. Next came an October trip to Keeneland for the Franklin Stakes-G2 and a clash with Godolphin's Group 2 winner Star Of Mystery (GB). Future Is Now sat second, took the lead in the stretch and held off the favorite by three-quarters of a length in 1:01.47 for 5½ furlongs. The time broke a 24-year-old stakes record.

Johnson didn't nominate Future Is Now for the Breeders' Cup as a foal and decided against spending the $100,000 fee to run in the Turf Sprint-G1, where Star Of Mystery finished fourth three weeks after the Franklin.

Future Is Now was back on the worktab at Fair Hill in February in advance of a planned 2025 debut at Keeneland in April.

Who's Counting

2024 Maryland-bred Champion Steeplechaser

B.g., 2018, Vancouver (Aus)—Counter Measure, by Henrythenavigator. Bred and owned by South Branch Equine. Trained by Sean McDermott. Foaled at Cordelia Stables, Street.

$50,000 Good Night Shirt Hurdle;
2nd Mariann De Tejeda Memorial-G3

2024 record: 6-2-1-0, $88,665

Douglas Lees

Encore performance. Two years after winning Maryland-bred champion steeplechaser honors with a dual-threat season, Who's Counting did it again.

Strictly a flat horse as a 3-year-old in 2021, Who's Counting broke his maiden going a mile on the turf at Laurel Park. At 4 in 2022, he won twice over jumps (and placed in two stakes) and once on the flat. His 2023 season included two flat wins (and a stakes placing) and a jump victory.

In 2024, he won his first start of the year in the $50,000 Good Night Shirt Stakes over hurdles at Foxfield April 27. The restricted handicap drew a field of just three, and Who's Counting took over from eventual filly/mare hurdle champion Gold Charm (Ire) late to score for owner/breeder South Branch Equine and trainer/jockey Sean McDermott.

Sixth in Grade 1 company over jumps in May, Who's Counting went back to the flat for two starts and picked up an allowance win at Laurel Park in September. In October he was once again jumping in stakes company – he made the lead late but had to settle for second as Sebastopol (Ire) rallied past in the $75,000 Mariann De Tejeda Memorial-G3 at Foxfield. Eventual Eclipse Award winner Snap Decision finished third.

Who's Counting has become something of a specialist at the Charlottesville, Va., course where he has two wins and a second in three starts.

The Kinsley family's South Branch Equine bred and campaigns Who's Counting. His dam, the unraced Counter Measure, was purchased by South Branch for $60,000 at the 2014 Keeneland November sale. In addition to Who's Counting, a son of Vancouver (Aus), she produced the winning Cape Blanco (Ire) gelding Three Pillars. Bob Kinsley, who died in 2020, also campaigned two-time Maryland-bred champion steeplechaser Incomplete. ❧

2024 MHBA Stallion of the Year:
GREAT NOTION

And that makes nine. Northview Stallion Station pillar Great Notion earned his ninth consecutive Maryland Stallion of the Year crown after leading the state by progeny earnings, stakes winners, winners, wins and 2-year-old winners in 2024.

Paced by Grade 3 winner Coastal Mission's $535,000, Great Notion's sons and daughters earned $6,128,141 during the year. He sired eight stakes winners and 77 winners of 154 races. His 2-year-olds of 2024 included 13 winners of 15 races.

Grade 2 winner and dual Maryland-bred champion Future Is Now ($513,155) also provided a big push to the statistics, while stakes winner Witty ($201,522) completed the top three. Bred in West Virginia by Coleswood Farm, Coastal Mission also became Great Notion's first millionaire. Another stakes-winning son, Twisted Ride, finished third in the Alfred G. Vanderbilt-G1 at Saratoga while – in a show of versatility – 11-year-old son Awesome Adrian won a 3¼-mile timber stakes.

A foal of 2000, Great Notion won three of his 12 lifetime starts including the Southwest Stakes at Oaklawn Park as a 3-year-old. Also that year, he placed in the King's Bishop-G1, Amsterdam-G2 and two other stakes. Retired to Northview, he entered stud in 2005 and over time became one of the region's all-time greats. His 17 crops to race include 558 foals, 361 winners, 49 stakes winners and $44.8 million in total earnings. Booked full under private contract for the 2025 season, Great Notion was represented by John B. Campbell Stakes winner Speedyness at Laurel Park Feb. 15.

The nine Stallion of the Year prizes trail only Not For Love's 13 (including 10 in a row from 2006-15). ❧

2024 MHBA Breeder of the Year:
R. LARRY JOHNSON

There's no good way to put it. Larry Johnson's 2024 Maryland Breeder of the Year Award is a bittersweet one as the longtime owner/breeder died in February, 10 days before voting was finalized.

A Thoroughbred owner for nearly 50 years, Johnson played every part of the industry – claiming, breeding, buying, selling, owning, standing stallions – and built an enviable program centered at his Legacy Farm in Bluemont, Va.

As an owner, his 2024 included 25 wins. Homebreds provided all but two. Overall, Johnson Maryland-breds (including some partnerships) won 53 races and earned $3,048,543 in 2024.

Grade 2 winner Future Is Now led the way with five wins and $513,155 earned. Her younger half-sister Call Another Play won three, placed in a Grade 2 and earned $214,775. Out of the Bernardini mare Past as Prelude, winless in nine starts, both were Maryland-bred champions in 2024. Maryland-bred 3-year-old male champion Mindframe, sold by Johnson for $600,000 as a yearling, won twice and placed in two Grade 1 stakes while earning $647,360. All three champions trace to Johnson's $2,400 purchase of Ran's Chick as a 2-year-old in 1978.

Though he has been a leading recipient in the Maryland Fund for several years, the Breeder of the Year nod was Johnson's first. ❧

2024 MHBA Broodmare of the Year:
VIELSALM

Anybody paying even a modicum of attention to the Maryland racing scene in 2024 heard plenty about Post Time as the Maryland-bred ran up four stakes wins and three Grade 1 placings en route to a regional-best $975,000 in earnings.

Racing fans can thank a 2016 trip to Saratoga by his dam Vielsalm for the gray millionaire. She finished eighth, at 49-1, in the Waya Stakes-G3 on a card where Frosted dominated the Grade 1 Whitney one race later. Owner Brooke Bowman watched the performance, remembered, and (along with his parents Tom and Chris and partner Milton Higgins III) sent Vielsalm to Frosted in 2019. Post Time sold for $85,000 as a yearling and was purchased privately by Ellen Charles' Hillwood Stable as a 2-year-old. Unbeaten in three starts in 2022, he won the Maryland-bred juvenile male championship that year. Limited to three autumn starts in 2023, he put up two wins and a third and rode that wave to the strong 2024.

The Maryland-bred Horse of the Year, champion older male and champion sprinter of 2024, Post Time has not finished worse than third in 15 career starts while pushing his bankroll to $1,227,910 for trainer Brittany Russell.

A daughter of Fairbanks bred by Tom, Chris and Brooke Bowman, Vielsalm failed to meet her reserve of $3,500 as a yearling. In Brooke's colors, she won seven races and placed in 14 more while earning $329,285, highlighted by a win in the 2014 All Brandy Stakes at Laurel Park and a head loss at 76-1 in the Gallorette-G3 at Pimlico in 2016.

Retired that year, Vielsalm produced What Does It Take in 2018. The son of Munnings has won eight races and $311,946 the hard way. A year later, Vielsalm produced Battle of Bastogne, a three-time winning son of Street Magician. Her 2022 filly Field Song, by McKinzie, sold for $80,000 as a yearling and $140,000 at 2 at the Ocala spring sale, but has yet to race.

Vielsalm lost a Nyquist colt last year and was expecting a foal by Tapit, the all-time leading North American sire by progeny earnings. She's booked to Frosted. ❧

All horses with at least 10 points are listed. Selections were made by Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred editors Joe Clancy and Cindy Deubler and senior writers Sean Clancy and Tom Law, Maryland Jockey Club vice president of racing development Georganne Hale, MJC racing secretary Jillian Tullock, stakes coordinator Eleanor Albert, director of communications Dan Illman, track announcer Dave Rodman, racing analysts Kali Francois, Mackenzie Pfeiffer and Tim Tullock, MTHA communications and backstretch services' Tom LaMarra, Bill Brasaemle and Keith Feustle of Equibase, freelance writers Andy Beyer, Ted Black, Maggie Kimmitt, Vinnie Perrone, John Piassek and John Scheinman, The Racing Biz publisher Frank Vespe, photographer Allison Janezic and WBAL NewsRadio reporter Scott Wykoff.

Nine Maryland-breds nominated to Triple Crown

After a strong season of juvenile stakes performances, nine Maryland-bred colts and geldings have been nominated to this year's Triple Crown races, the largest contingent since 2017.

One of the most compelling didn't have a name as of Feb. 18, but the son of Nyquist and How My Heart Works headlined the 2023 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic fall yearling sale at $205,000 from the Becky Davis consignment. Owned by Spendthrift Farm and MKW Racing and Breeding and trained by Richard Mandella, he was bred by Bowman and Higgins Stable.

Other nominees include stakes winners It's Hammertime, Sacred Thunder, Studlydoright and Tony Eclipse.

Studlydoright was the richest of the group at 2, earning $279,680 in seven starts and the Maryland-bred 2-year-old male championhip. The son of Nyquist bred by Glenangus Farm out of homebred Peach of a Gal is owned by Men's Grille Racing and trained by John "Jerry" Robb.

It's Hammertime, trained by Gary Capuano for Eagle Up Stables, London Reid Thoroughbreds and Non Stop Stable, has earned $184,000 with three wins in four starts, including back-to-back stakes scores in Delaware Park's First State Dash and Rocky Run. The son of Vekoma out of Steady N Love bred by ZWP Stable and Non Stop Stable concluded his season with a fourth in the Nashua.

Capuano also trains Sacred Thunder, winner of Laurel's James F. Lewis III Stakes in November and most recently third in the Spectacular Bid Stakes. By Holy Boss out of Elusory and bred by Anchor and Hope Farm, he is owned by John Hazard.

Stuart Grant's The Elkstone Group homebred Tony Eclipse, out of the Brittany Russell barn, captured the Maryland Juvenile Stakes, was second in the Rocky Run and third in the Nashua in five starts at 2. He's a son of Not This Time and the Tapit mare Tapits Faith.

The Elkstone Group also bred Crisis Manager, a Liam's Map gelding sold as a yearling for $190,000 at Keeneland September. Owned by Highlander Training Center and trained by Tom Amoss, he finished second in his 3-year-old debut in an Oaklawn Park maiden special weight.

Brad Cox-trained Passion Rules, a son of Country Life Farm sire Friesan Fire bred by Charles and Cynthia McGinnes, won his debut going 1 1/16 miles at Fair Grounds Jan. 27. Out of Goodnight Angel, he was purchased for $40,000 by Calumet Farm at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic yearling sale.

Santa Anita-based Modus Bestia, trained by Richard Baltas for Calvin Nguyen and Joey Tran, made his debut at his home track Jan. 25 and finished second by a half-length after dueling with Bob Baffert-trained winner San Saba. Bred by Country Life Farm and the Make Amends mare partnership, the son of Maclean's Music and Make Amends sold as a weaning for $140,000 at Fasig-Tipton's select November sale and resold at Keeneland September to his current owners for $500,000.

Reggie Runs Rogue (Rogueish—Sky Lani, by Sky Mesa), owned, trained and cobred by Justin Nixon with Dr. Megan Kerford, has two wins in four starts, and was fourth in the Laurel Futurity.

Astride: Horses, Women, and a Partnership that Shaped America

Historian Eliza McGraw takes a different path in her new book, Astride: Horses, Women, and a Partnership that Shaped America. The author of Here Comes Exterminator weaves together stories of women who pioneered in the worlds of Thoroughbred breeding, the circus, horse rescue, cattle ranching, race riding and more in a time when women were determined to prove they could hold their own in any equine related activity. Richly illustrated with period photographs, Astride demonstrates that even small changes can advance the fight for progress.

SPOTLIGHT

Nancy Shufford

North Carolina is not known for being a central location for Thoroughbred racing yet – despite the sport's deep roots in the state that dates back to the colonial era. North Carolina has found itself on the 2025 Road to the Kentucky Derby following the frontrunning score of Speed King in the $1 million Southwest Stakes-G3 at Oaklawn Park Jan 25. The win put the gray/roan colt in second on the Kentucky Derby point leader board. He was bred by Nancy Shuford, whose Rock House Farm sits just outside of Hickory.

Nancy has experienced major success before, breeding three-time Grade 1 winner and Breeders' Cup-placed Beach Patrol and graded stakes winners Dancinginherdreams, Oscar A., Pretty N Cool, Stuff and Things, and Texas Wedge.

Rewards aplenty for Warrior's Reward LLC in 2024

By Nikki Sherman

It only took 20 minutes to change the lives of Pennsylvania breeders Donny Brown and Tom McClay. In 2018 they partnered together with a well-bred son of Medaglia d'Oro and named the partnership after him: Warrior's Reward LLC. The Grade 1-winning stallion soon catapulted them to second place on the leaderboard with his first 3-year-old crop of PA-Breds in 2023. Last year the partnership vaulted into the front and was crowned Pennsylvania's Leading Breeder of 2024 with breeder and stallion awards of $927,518.75.

"We heard Warrior's Reward was for sale through friends Tom Reigle and Patrick Morrell at 11:45 AM on September 28, 2018, and had a contract signed at 12:05 PM," Brown remembered fondly. "We were not really looking for a stallion but it seemed right because we had just purchased some broodmares together."

Warrior's Reward had big numbers to back him up when he arrived – the sire of at least one stakes winner in each of his first five crops he landed atop Pennsylvania's leading general sires list with more than $5.7 million in progeny earnings in 2018. He also ranked first among the state's 2-year-old sires that year.

The duo relocated Warrior's Reward from Spendthrift Farm in Kentucky to WynOaks Farm in Pennsylvania for the 2019 breeding season and he was an immediate hit, covering 115 mares. That first crop has yielded the likes of stakes winners Stassi and Simply Stated, multiple stakes-placed Warrior's Ransom, as well as stakes-placed seven-time winner and Warrior's Reward LLC homebred Hot Fudge Warrior.

The crop of 2021 has been even better and the best were all homebreds. In 2024, Candy Reward captured three of five starts, including the H.B.P.A. Stakes at Presque Isle Downs in October to close out the year. Reigert Girls emphatically broke her maiden by 5 lengths at Presque Isle before she walloped an allowance field by 6¾ lengths at Penn National and was on the board in six of her nine starts. And Strider's Slider finished on the board in seven of 10 starts, three of them victories.

Warrior's Reward's 2-year-olds of 2024 surpassed them all. The Boy's Warrior sent out ripples of excitement every time he raced, capturing the $100,000 Whistle Pig Stakes by 9 easy lengths in his second start and the $100,000 Mark McDermott Stakes by 4 lengths next out. Stablemate Ballad of Warrior was second in the latter race during a campaign that also saw him win first time out and earn more black type with a third in the $100,000 Wait For It Stakes.

Two-time stakes winner The Boy's Warrior had a sensational juvenile season in 2024 and ranked as Warrior Reward's leading earner of the year.

"After purchasing Warrior's Reward, we continued to acquire broodmares to support him," said Brown. "Foaling in Pennsylvania has been our priority because the PA program really increases your chance to get a return on a runner."

With his impressive stakes victories, The Boy's Warrior is currently tied for first place in the PA Stallion Series for his crop, with one more stakes in the series set for 2025. On top of that, in 2024 he earned a chart-topping $64,880 in breeders' awards, $16,220 in stallion awards, and an owner's bonus of $5,400, bringing his total bankroll to $225,800. Talk about a return on investment!

A few words from the Executive Secretary

Congratulations to all our breeders as 2024 was another fantastic year for PA-Breds. Over $26 million was paid out to owners and breeders in Awards, Owner Bonuses and Restricted Races! Thank you for your continued support.

I'd like to welcome G1-placed, million-dollar earner Ny Traffic, sired by Cross Traffic, who enters the ranks of Pennsylvania stallions. You can find stallions sired by Tapit, Curlin, Munnings, Street Sense, Speightstown, Medaglia d'Oro, Gun Runner, Good Magic and many more which includes 10 new sires to PA for 2025. Go to pabred.com and check out the PA Stallion & Boarding Farm Directory on the home page and book your next, or first, PA-Bred.

The third and final leg of the 2024 Stallion Series will be run in 2025, with purses of $100,000 for 3yos and 3yo fillies. A $50,000 breeder bonus for horses that finish first, second and third in total points for the series will be paid at that time – $25,000 for first, $15,000 for second and $10,000 for third.

We'll be having our first PA Yearling Show on June 21 at Brandywine Polo Club in Chester County. Four categories and a champion category will be offered with lots of prizes. You'll be receiving show information and a registration form in the mail and online. Only $50 to enter.

Domicile forms are mandatory and should have been completed by Dec. 1 or when you mare comes into the state if breeding back to a PA stallion, or within 14 days of a public sale. If you need a place to board and foal your mare, please give us a call at 610-444-1050.

If you are still using paper registrations, please make sure you forward a signed copy of the Code of Ethics, which is attached to the registration form. We will be transitioning to paperless this year. Wishing you a fantastic start to 2025, and remember, PA is the only place to Breed and Race! Go PA!!

has always foaled all of their mares. Randy Rentz in South Carolina and Betsy Houghton at Sylmar Farm break their babies. They also have trainers at all three Pennsylvania racetracks, including Tim Girten at Presque Isle Downs, Brandon Kulp at Penn National and Scott Lake at Parx Racing.

"We have found that investing in equine caretakers, as well as adding time and patience shows in your results," said Brown. "Having options when it's time to go to the track gives us the opportunity for success."

Warrior's Reward himself has given Brown and McClay a unique opportunity with breeding and racing their own PA-Breds based around using their own stallion. However, he isn't the only sire they have used. Not This Time's daughter Just One Time gave them the thrill of a lifetime in winning the $500,000 Madison Stakes-G1 at Keeneland in 2022. Not This Time also sired One More Kelly, their winner of the 2023 Plum Pretty Stakes.

The Warrior's Reward LLC partnership is the owner of Twilight Dancer, a 2021 son of Tapiture who captured last year's $100,000 Hard Spun Stakes at Presque Isle, part of a nine-race 2024 campaign that additionally included three more allowance wins. Twilight Dancer is out of Moonlight Basin, making him a full brother to seven-time winner Magicnthemoonlight, who has career earnings of over $360,000.

"Our plan is simply to breed mares with some pedigree or ability to the best sires we can," Brown said.

Warrior's Reward LLC-breds by other stallions include 2024 winners Cici Unified (Unified), Cloud in the Wind (Cloud Computing), Dweller (Mshawish), Lost in Newyork (Verrazano), More Ransom (Run Away and Hide), Motito (Kantharos) and Shy Da Runner (Competitive Edge).

Warrior's Reward receives plenty of attention at Old Friends in Kentucky.

Foals born in 2024 are by such sires Cairo Prince, Connect, Golden-cents, Mandaloun, Maximum Security, Maximus Mischief, Midshipman, Mitole, Practical Joke and Yaupon.

After their massive 2024, the sky has no limit for Brown and McClay in 2025 and beyond. Looking at their crop of newly-minted yearlings, the future should be fun, rewarding and exciting. Warrior's Reward LLC has retained several mares by their stallion to continue his legacy into the next generation.

"Princess Brie, [stakes-placed] My Girl Corey and Went With the Wind will have foals this year," Brown said. "We just added [stakes-placed] Pretti Xtreme. We are going to race Candy Reward this summer and breed her next year. We do not own our favorite mare by Warrior's Reward. Her name is Strong Incentive. But at one time we owned her mother G G's Dolly."

Strong Incentive, bred by Spendthrift Farm, was a stakes winner for Klaravich Stables and William Lawrence who has turned into a blue hen broodmare. She is the dam of three consecutive graded stakes winners, the first the Into Mischief colt Highly Motivated, who contested the 2021 Kentucky Derby-G1 after finishing second in the Blue Grass Stakes-G2. Highly Motivated is now a stallion at Airdrie Stud in Kentucky.

Flintshire (GB) sired Strong Incentive's next stakes winner, Surge Capacity, who went on to win the Grade 1 Matriarch Stakes at Del Mar in 2023. Surge Capacity was then sold for $3.6 million to Grand Stud at last fall's Fasig-Tipton Fall Mixed Sale. She is expecting a foal by Into Mischief this spring.

Strong Incentive's third stakes winner has been the most impressive: Ways and Means, by Practical Joke, captured the Grade 1 Test Stakes and Grade 2 Gallant Bloom Stakes last summer, was second in the Spinaway Stakes-G1 at 2 and last year's Gulfstream Park Oaks-G2, as well as fourth in the Kentucky Oaks-G1 and fifth in the Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Sprint-G1.

After such an eye-popping produce record, Strong Incentive has sold twice for more than a million. She brought $2,150,000 at the 2023 Fasig-Tipton Kentucky Fall Mixed Sale in foal to Good Magic, and was at the same select sale last fall, selling for $2,750,000 to M.V. Magnier and White Birch Farm while carrying a full sibling to Highly Motivated.

Warrior's Reward was pensioned, at the age of 19, following the 2024 breeding season in which he covered 10 mares. Brown is a huge proponent of responsible racehorse retirement and he wanted to make sure that their prized stallion would be appreciated. In July, Warrior's Reward was shipped to Old Friends in Georgetown, Ky., where fans can visit by scheduling a tour.

"The mission and staff at Old Friends make us proud to be a part of horse racing," said Brown. "It has been important to retire all of our horses like a loved family pet."

MARCH 2025

Racing Across the Nation

Between Dec. 21 and Jan. 19, South Carolina training center graduates crossed the finish line first four times in stakes races. Simply Joking did it twice!

On Dec. 21 Simply Joking, the only first-time starter in the Letellier at Fair Grounds, proved best in this 2-year-old stakes race. Last out of the gate, she stayed behind horses until she began her rally turning for home. While five wide, she caught up to the leader with a furlong to go and outdueled that one to the wire, winning by a neck.

Simply Joking came back Jan. 18 and remained unbeaten when capturing Fair Grounds' Silverbulletday Stakes. She broke on top and never looked back, drawing clear in the stretch and crossing the finish line 2½ lengths in front.

This filly by Practical Joke was developed for her racing career at the Travis Durr Training Center. Kentucky Oaks dreams are on the minds of owners Grantley Acres, Ryan Connor and Berkles0813 and trainer Whit Beckman.

Also on Dec. 21, the Travis Durr graduate Her Laugh was a wire-to-wire winner of the Untapable Stakes at Fair Grounds. She won her debut race at Churchill Downs Nov. 17. In the Untapable Stakes, Her Laugh was in complete control throughout to be 2½ lengths in front at the finish. She is also a 3-year-old filly by Practical Joke and is owned by Grantley Acres and trained by Whit Beckman, as is Simply Joking. More Kentucky Oaks dreams!!

One more former student of the Travis Durr Training Center, Toupie, recorded her fourth stakes victory in the Las Cienegas Stakes-G3 at Santa Anita Jan. 19. This was her first graded stakes victory. She broke on top and led the field to the finish line while 2½ lengths clear at the wire. In 11 career starts, Toupie has recorded five wins, three second-place finishes and a third while accumulating $371,775 in earnings.

L'Imperator (Fr) Eclipse Finalist

For the second year in a row, an Arch Kingsley-trainee was named a finalist in the Steeplechase Eclipse Award category. This time round, L'Imperator (Fr) gained the honor, following Merry Maker (Ire) for 2023. Merry Maker was declared Champion Steeplechaser.

In 2024, L'Imperator made seven starts, all in stakes. He won the Grade 1 Beverly R. Steinman Hurdle Handicap at Aqueduct last June. He finished second in the Lonesome Glory Handicap-G1 and third in the Commonwealth Cup Stakes-G1, Carolina Cup Hurdle and the Colonial Cup. L'Imperator also had fourth-place finishes in two more Grade 1 stakes, the A.P. Smithwick Memorial Handicap and American Grand National. He is owned by Hudson River Farms.

SCTOBA members Arch, Wendy and Taylor Kingsley live in Camden. Their farm is home base for the Kingsley training operation. As a jump jockey, Arch was the 1997 National Champion in races won, and in 1997 and 1999 he was the National Champion in money winnings.

For 2023, the Kingsley-trained Merry Maker was named Eclipse Award Champion Steeplechaser. Merry Maker raced for Hurricana Stable, owned by SCTOBA member Pierre Manigault, who is the driving force behind the Steeplechase of Charleston held in Hollywood annually in November.

The busy month of March

Racing action returns to South Carolina in March. The 82nd Running of the Aiken Trials will take place on Saturday, March 15. The following Saturday will be action packed. The 60th Running of the Elloree Trials will be held at Franklin "Goree" Smith's Elloree Training Center. The 2025 National Steeplechase season will begin on the same day with the 58th Running of the Aiken Spring Steeplechase.

The following Saturday, March 29, the 91st Running of the Carolina Cup Steeplechase will be held at the Springdale Racecourse in Camden.

Exodus begins in March

Come March, the 2-year-olds that spent their winter in South Carolina learning how to become a racehorse begin to leave the state as they head for 2-year-old in training sales or to their owner's racetrack trainer.

Ocala Breeders' Sales Company conducts 2-year-old sales in March, April and June. Keeneland hosts a Horses of All Ages sale in April, and Fasig-Tipton holds the Midlantic May Two-Year Olds in Training Sale at Timonium on the Monday and Tuesday (May 19 and 20) following the Preakness Stakes-G1.

Two-year-old racing is held at Keeneland in April and around the same time 2-year-old races soon begin to appear in condition books up and down the East Coast.

Spring time is when our training operations begin to see their hard work pay off.

VIRGINIA

DETERMINED KINGDOM EARNS VIRGINIA-BRED HORSE OF THE YEAR HONORS; WINNERS TO BE RECOGNIZED AT COLONIAL DOWNS ON VIRGINIA DERBY DAY

Determined Stables and Kingdom Bloodstock's Determined Kingdom has been named Virginia-Bred Horse of the Year and will be recognized — along with other 2024 award winners — during Virginia Derby Day festivities at Colonial Downs March 15. A series of award presentations will take place between various races from the paddock infield that day and broadcast over Colonial's simulcast feed. After 21 editions of the Virginia Derby — on turf, held during the summer months since 1998 — the race switches to dirt this year and becomes an official qualifier race on the Road to the Kentucky Derby. Virginia's Derby winner will secure a spot in the field for the "Run for the Roses" May 3 at Churchill Downs.

Determined Kingdom had an outstanding 2024 campaign which included wins in the $125,000 Punch Line Stakes and $150,000 Meadow Stable Handicap, both held at Colonial Downs. The 6-year-old Animal Kingdom gelding collected four wins from six starts and bankrolled $285,900 — pushing his career tally to $734,177. Other winners circle appearances came in a $140,000 fall allowance at Keeneland and a $56,000 early summer allowance at Laurel. The Phil Schoenthal trainee also finished third in Colonial's Van Clief Stakes and fifth in the G3 Belmont Turf Sprint Stakes. Prior to 2024, Determined Kingdom had won four Virginia-bred stakes — the Punch Line in 2022 & 2033, Meadow Stable in 2023 and Jamestown in 2021. The trophy winner, who also was crowned Virginia-bred Turf Sprinter of the Year, was bred by Audley Farm Equine.

Million-dollar earner Gigante was named Virginia-Bred Turf Horse of the Year. The Steve Asmussen trainee earned $152,175 from five starts last year including a win in the Buddy Diliberto Memorial Stakes at Fair Grounds December 21. The 5-year-old Not This Time horse added to his resume with a runner-up finish in the G2 Muniz Memorial Classic at Fair Grounds and a third in the G3 River City Stakes at Churchill. Gigante of course started his career in 2022 with wins at Colonial in a maiden special weight and later in the Kitten's Joy Stakes, then prevailed in the G2 Secretariat Stakes in 2023. Interestingly, Gigante was sold by his original owners — Diamond T Racing & Iapetus Racing — for $610,000 to Clark Brewster & L and N Racing on January 31 of this year. Virginia's 2024 Champion Turf Horse was bred by Ann Mudge Backer and Smitten Farm.

Freshman title awards will be presented to Sail Theseven Seas and Saxton in respective Virginia-bred Filly & Colt categories. The former, a Michael Trombetta trainee bred by Larry Johnson, finished in the top three in all five of her races. She prevailed in a maiden special weight at Laurel to close out her 2024 campaign and earlier in the summer, finished second in both the $125,000 Jamestown and $150,000 Keswick Stakes at Colonial. The latter trophy winner, a Cathal Lynch trainee bred by Lazy Lane Farms, was 2-for-5 last year and bankrolled $110,400. The Mosler gelding won a maiden special weight in New Kent in his career bow and followed up with a gate-to-wire allowance win at Laurel four weeks later. He also took second in the Maryland Juvenile Stakes and third in the James Lewis III Stakes.

Top Virginia-bred Older Female honors went to Susan Naylor's Tufani, who was bred by Chance Farm and Distorted Humor Syndicate. The now 5-year-old mare won two key races at Colonial — the $125,000 Brookmeade Stakes and $150,000 Nellie Mae Cox Handicap. Jockey Ben Curtis had the winning ride in both. Overall last year, the Michael Stidham trainee earned $188,500 from five starts and pushed her lifetime earnings to $362,442.

Virginia-Certified winners include Future Is Now as top female performer and Book'em Danno as top male. Both had outstanding campaigns — the former earned $513,155 while the latter bankrolled $807,500.

Maryland-bred Future Is Now won four stakes including a pair of Grade 2's — the Intercontinental at Saratoga June 7 and the Franklin Stakes at Keeneland October 13. Other stakes victories came in Laurel's The Very One and in Saratoga's Smart N Fancy. The trophy winner is a 5-year-old Great Notion mare trained by Michael Trombetta and owned/bred by Larry Johnson. Future Is Now spent her Virginia residency at Johnson's Legacy Farm in Bluefield.

Book'em Danno collected a trio of stakes wins including a Grade 1 score in the Woody Stephens Stakes at Saratoga on the Belmont Day card. The 4-year-old Bucchero gelding also connected in the Pasco Stakes at Tampa Bay Downs and Jersey Shore Stakes at Monmouth. In addition, Book'em Danno took second in the G3 Saudi Derby at King Abdulaziz Racecourse. The Derek Ryan trainee is a New Jersey-bred, owned by Atlantic Six Racing, LLC and spent his 6-month Virginia residency at Gracie Bloodstock's Locust Hill Farm in Middleburg.

Virginia Trainer of the Year honors go to Susan Cooney, whose farm is based in Delaplane. In 2024, Cooney had 11 wins, 9 seconds and 17 third place finishes. Her Carolina Hideaway had a great summer at Colonial Downs, winning twice and collecting a third in three starts. Those victories came in a $75,000 maiden special weight July 26 and in a $70,000 allowance September 4. Cooney's Speak Your Mind crossed the wire first on two separate occasions at Laurel and seven other horses from her stable captured individual wins in 2024.

Virginia-Bred Horse of the Year Determined Kingdom is best in the 2024 Punch Line Stakes at Colonial Downs (Coady Media).

Gigante, Virginia-Bred Turf Horse of the Year, wins the Buddy Diliberto Stakes at Fair Grounds December 21 (Hodges Photography).

Sail Theseven Seas wins a maiden special weight at Laurel October 24 (Jim McCue Photography).

Saxton captures a Laurel allowance on October 4 (Jim McCue Photography)

Future Is Now returns to the winners circle after winning the G2 Intercontinental Stakes (Adam Coglianese Photography).

Book'em Danno wins the G1 Woody Stephens Stakes at Saratoga (Adam Coglianese Photography).

The Game Goes On

By Jeff Gilleas

The greatest adventure I've undertaken in my life was attempting to master the highly immersive game known as Thoroughbred horse racing.

Though I recognized, at an early age, this pastime/profession can divest you of financial accomplishments, the urge to play was still too great to resist.

Nowadays, instead of counting money, I tally memories and experiences that horses and horsemen afforded me along the challenging road to life's finish line.

According to the player's guide, there are two classical approaches to achieving fulfillment, the immediate gratification of the claiming tournament or the courageous alternative of the breeding match.

My exposure was compliments of the simplistic and cornerstone portal . . . claiming.

As a Noob, destitute of knowledge, experience and material resources, pitted against many of the monsters of the Mid Atlantic midway (Alfano, Capuano, Delp, Dutrow, Leatherbury, Tammaro), I found early shaping lessons administered with swift consequences.

Though disappointment loomed around every corner, and your next spin of the wheel could be your last, the game remained intensely compelling.

To brighten spirits, the Board would occasionally interject a fresh parameter, such as travel, which led me to the creation of a new character, employment, and bread and butter relationships.

My zip code shifted to Jefferson County, West Virginia, and during the mid 1990s, that locale was reminiscent of a wild west town waiting for an innovative sheriff to appear.

Horse racing and breeding had literally shutdown, forcing many compatriots to flee, while off the sidelines, a savvy entrepreneur, sensing a destination ripe for revitalization, materialized.

Penn National Gaming, now referred to as Penn Entertainment, took a gamble on a small property in the Eastern Panhandle, and with voters approval forever rearranged the region's financial landscape.

Avant-garde pioneers in the state's racing game like Frank Gall, Millard Harrell, Jim Palmer, John McKee and Randy Funkhouser had spent lifetimes trying to preserve the racing, breeding and agricultural heritage.

With the advent of revenues generated from VLTs, a bold plan was devised to fuel the growth of the breeding industry, which could stimulate and strengthen the racing product.

The West Virginia Development Fund amended the rules of the playing field: dramatically increasing purses, value and marketability of the Mountain State Thoroughbred.

No longer feasible to be an operational player, my game status shifted to spectator and ordained pupil.

Fast forwarding to contemporary Charles Town, we discover the larger-than-life personality of Ronney W. Brown.

Alongside his wife Nicole, the couple has transformed their once modest business operation by integrating many of the game's perks.

Falling prey to the allure of mares, stallions and foals (30 mares and three stallions), Nicole is farm manager, while Ronney, the "Gentle Giant" tends to over 50 horses in Barn 2, most secured thru the claiming path.

At their farm, the alpha duo integrates a strategy of breeding-to-race individuals who possess an attractive, yet reasonable, pedigree page.

Brown concurs that the quest for the evasive Golden Key can hypnotize participants.

According to Ronney: "West Virginia is a unique situation. Because the state lacks a professional sports franchise, like football, baseball or basketball, horse racing commands the attention of legislators, who realize its significance. With year-round racing at Charles Town, the ability to guarantee steady employment promotes family stability. Proving that point is several of my grooms have been with me for over 20 years.

"We run around 160 days a year, with eight races nightly. As a trainer, I utilize the double clause condition of our state-bred program. This is where a West Virginia-bred can run through his/her conditions and revisit them against wide-open company. As a breeder, and West Virginia resident, Nicole and I take full advantage of the 10-10-10 program. The hybrid merger of racing and gaming here has been a successful marriage. It affords horsemen the ability to earn a living, while continuing the tradition of safeguarding the agricultural component of our sport."

News and Notes

Mike Atkins has been a steady force in West Virginia Thoroughbred racing since 1987, but last year appeared to have his most memorable, and profitable 12-month period.

Horses like Marshall Peanut, which he owns, trains and bred, have elevated the Culpeper, Va., native to lofty heights.

The hard-working and well-liked horseman numbers Kluvyabye as his all-time top-money earner, and in a recent conversation hailed her as his most prolific broodmare.

The battle tested veteran raced until she was 9 years old, from 2013 through 2019, earning $213,107.

Mike stated, "Kluvyabye's foals combined have won their last six starts, with Besotted on a three-race win streak. That horse's early poor performances were puzzling and had him on the verge of failure as a racehorse – that's when my vet (Will) diagnosed a potential foot issue. We put our heads together, pulled the shoes off for 30 days, and as they say, the rest is history."

Patrons who have supported Besotted during his winning crusade have received payoffs of $102, $48 and $71 on two-dollar investments.

Nice to see longtime West Virginia horse conditioner Lee Couchenour back in the winner's circle.

The avid golfer and possibly most articulate man on the Charles Town backside, Lee scored with Flamme Fatale in the Jan. 29 opener.

Veteran jockey Larry Reynolds was aboard the O'Sullivan Farms-bred daughter of Aldrin.

Steeplechase owner Bolton dies at 94

By Joe Clancy

DOUGLAS LEES

Perry Bolton attended the Maryland Hunt Cup as a teenager, and as a 93-year-old. Other than several years when he lived in California, he never missed North America's oldest steeplechase race held the last Saturday of April in the Worthington Valley. As an owner, he won the 4-mile timber race three times.

But the lifelong foxhunter never rode in a Hunt Cup.

"One of my great regrets," he said in 2021, after Vintage Vinnie (Ire) won the Hunt Cup for the Armata Stable partnership of Bolton and Ben Griswold IV.

Bolton, who died Jan. 24 at age 94, didn't have many.

He was the son of Alfred "Jack" Bolton, a movie industry executive, and Perry Black Bullock, whose father was prominent Maryland businessman Van Lear Black. Bolton graduated from the Gilman School in 1949, the University of Virginia in 1953 and was a first lieutenant in the U.S. Army with service in Korea. His professional career included executive positions with A.S. Abell Co., then the publisher of the Baltimore Sunpapers; specialty publishing company McCorquodale Holdings; and as chairman of the board of Excel Homes, a large modular house builder with plants in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

He golfed, rode horses, split time between homes in Maryland and Florida, traveled to Saratoga most summers and watched top-class Thoroughbreds compete wherever the steeplechase circuit took him and his wife of 65 years Aurelia Garland Bolton (who died in April 2024). In obituary notes he wrote last summer, Bolton said he was "most proud of the fact that he preserved his family estate Strontia in Brooklandville, Md." The property has been in his family since 1910.

Horses were always a part of Bolton's life, first with a pony named Billy at his grandmother's farm Mt. Pleasant in Maryland. As a 17-year-old exercise rider, and owner, he won his first race with Peri Pomme at Timonium in 1947. Bolton rode regularly and foxhunted until age 82, and owned horses individually, with family members and as part of Armata with longtime friend Griswold.

Timber racing in Maryland was always the goal.

Purchased from co-breeder and trainer Jonathan Sheppard, Welter Weight made seven starts in the Hunt Cup. In 1995, he fell at the ninth fence. A year later, he was pulled up at the 14th. Second in 1997 and 1998 (by a head), he delivered Armata to the victory wagon with a 9-length knockout in 1999 before finishing second twice more in 2000 and 2001. Trained by Joe Davies and Tom Voss, the Fit to Fight gelding also won Maryland's Grand National timber stakes – held the week before the Hunt Cup – four times (and finished second twice).

"There was nothing like it," Bolton said about Welter Weight in 2020. "He just hurdled the course. Tom Voss said he never saw a horse jump faster. He would take off fast and land faster. Those were great years."

Some two decades after Welter Weight, Vintage Vinnie and Davies delivered back-to-back Hunt Cups in 2021 and 2022.

"It was absolutely special, I'll never forget it," said Bolton of the win, a year after the race was canceled because of the Covid-19 pandemic. "There's a lot of history in my family with the Hunt Cup and all the different people through the years."

Other Aramata standouts included stakes winners Cornhusker (GB), Dynaski, New Member (Ire) and Toughkenamon.

Bolton credited his great uncle George Brown Jr., a steward at racetracks in Maryland, Delaware and Florida, with stoking an interest in racing. Brown attended the first Maryland Hunt Cup (in 1894) and rode in the race 14 times – winning in 1900 and 1916.

"He was a wonderful country gentleman who was very firm and good at his job in the horse world," Bolton said in 2021. "He was a great model for me growing up."

In moves spearheaded by Bolton, the stewards' tower at Maryland's Shawan Downs racecourse is named for Brown, as is a trophy which salutes the horse judged to have the best performance at the three main timber meets in Maryland – My Lady's Manor, Grand National and Hunt Cup – each year.

Bolton served on the boards of the Gilman School, Maryland Institute College of Art, Baltimore Symphony, Maryland's chapter of the Nature Conservancy, the Baltimore Council of Foreign Affairs and the Independent College Fund of Maryland. He was a president of the Maryland Club, Green Spring Valley Hunt Club and treasurer of the Green Spring Valley Hounds among other positions. Bolton supported the Maryland Horse Breeders Association's creation of the Maryland Horse Library and Education Center in Reisterstown and was involved with the Maryland Daffodil Society for years.

SARAH LIBBEY GREENHALGH

Welter Weight was the first Armata Stable horse to win the Maryand Hunt Cup, in 1999, followed by Vintage Vinnie in 2021 and 2022.

Horses drove him, however.

"He always loved being around horses, loved riding, loved foxhunting and in the back of his mind he was always a little upset that he never rode in the Maryland Hunt Cup," said Bolton's son Charlie. "I think that was the basis of it all – 'Damn it, I'm going to win it as an owner.' He called Ben about forming Armata and it really was a gem of a partnership between two families that had many relationship points going back two generations."

Another son George followed his father into racing as an owner or co-owner of such flat-racing standouts as Curlin, My Miss Aurelia, Lady Aurelia, The Factor and others.

In addition to his sons, Perry Bolton is survived by daughter Aurelia Peterson, brother Alan Bolton, sister Carole Bolton Robiglio, nine grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews. He was pre-deceased by twin sister Gary Bolton Blue in 2018.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the Living Classrooms Foundation in Baltimore. ■

The heart and soul of the Thoroughbred in the region
Mid-Atlantic

Jump Start tops region's sire rankings
March 2015
Checking in with the mares • Steeplechase Preview • 2014 Statistical Summary

10 years ago

■ Ben's Cat received a fourth consecutive Maryland-bred Horse of the Year title, the only horse to accomplish the feat in the more than 50-year history of the awards. Also named champion older male, sprinter and turf runner, King Leatherbury's multimillionaire had a record 17 titles to his name over five seasons, including five turf championships. During his 8-year-old campaign he recorded his fifth Mister Diz Stakes win as well as three-peats in the Parx Dash (two of them graded), Jim McKay Turf Sprint and Fabulous Strike.

■ Numbers were a theme in the statistical issue. A few highlights: 134 Mid-Atlantic-breds won stakes in 2014, with Down Town Allen leading the way with five wins; 20 won graded stakes – four in Grade/Group 1 company: Real Solution, The Big Beast, Divine Fortune (steeplechase) and El Capitan (in Mexico); 46 stallions standing or having completed their careers in the region sired 100 stakes winners during the year. Leading the way with 10 was the region's leading sire, Northview's Jump Start, who stood in Pennsylvania.

■ The 50th anniversary of Jay Trump's win in the Grand National at Aintree was celebrated with a variety of photos by Maryland Horse photographer Peter Winants. The Maryland-bred timber great and future racing Hall of Famer was owned by Mary Stephenson, bred by Pennsylvanian Jay Sensenich, foaled at Samuel Pistorio's farm near Ellicott City, and trained and ridden by Crompton "Tommy" Smith.

■ Twenty-three Mid-Atlantic-bred 3-year-olds were nominated to the Triple Crown. One was a filly: Curlin's daughter Stellar Wind, bred by Keswick Stables and Stonestreet Thoroughbred Holdings, owned by Hronis Racing and trained by John Sadler.

Winner of her second start at 2 in December at Laurel for owner Barbara Houck, who purchased her for $86,000 out of Marshall Silverman's consignment at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic September yearling sale, Stellar Wind was sold privately and had yet to start at 3 when nominations were due. She didn't run in the Triple Crown races but had a stellar year, resulting in an Eclipse Award for top 3-year-old filly.

75 years ago

■ Maryland racing was facing a "light" spring stakes program, due to poor handle and attendance figures the previous two years, and operators of the tracks and horsemen alike were somewhat puzzled as to what to expect, reported Don Reed.

"... there is the question of whether patrons of racing will adjust themselves to Laurel racing in the spring instead of the fall. And how well can Havre de Grace do prior to the opening of Garden State Park? Or will Philadelphia fans await that track and pass up the Maryland course? And will Pimlico draw as well without its usual all-star lineup of features?

"Only time can answer most of these questions. Racing in the State is faced with the necessity of making some money quickly if there is to be racing in the future.

"Early indications point to an excellent brand of sport during the early days. Fine weather this winter has permitted horsemen who remained away from winter tracks to have their charges in better shape than usual. And most of the stables who make Maryland a regular stand in their year's itinerary are scheduled to campaign here again."

■ In chronicling the successful Hialeah meet, Joe Palmer added a tidbit about Alfred Vanderbilt and trophy presentations.

"Vanderbilt is extremely dextrous at this; when he was president of both Pimlico and Belmont Park he set what was believed at the time to be an American record in trophy presentation."

When a Hialeah stakes presenter asked Vanderbilt if he could outline what she should say, Palmer wrote of Vanderbilt's response: " 'I'll do that,' he said. 'What's more, I'll give you a speech and a method which will serve for any future presentations as well. You take the trophy by the stem if it's a cup, and by the rim if it's a plate. When the winning owner comes in range you stick it at him, and say, 'Here.' "

■ Humphrey S. Finney's Editor's Saddle-Bag included accounts of coast hopping and sales preparations while overseeing dispersals that included Californian Louis B. Mayer and Virginian William Ziegler. His entry for Jan. 31: "Today, with a Maryland and a Pennsylvania breeder, both interested in buying some of the Ziegler mares, we drove down to Middleburg to see the breeding stock to be offered in a couple of weeks. Went on to the High Hope farm of Mrs. Marie A. Moore, a well-appointed, spacious stud, where there are first class quarters for all sorts of stock. Found the stallions Lovely Night, Pass Out and Vincentive looking very well, as was the great Gallorette, world's leading money winning mare. The former Brann racer is carrying a Lovely Night foal, her first, just now. The mare will go to Sagamore, to Discovery, this season.

The foal Gallorette was carrying was Mlle. Lorette, later winner of the Gallorette Stakes. There was no report of a 1951 foal, but she did travel to Sagamore in future years. Her stakes-winning Native Dancer daughter Courbette is in the female line of a host of stakes winners, including Gun Runner.

25 years ago

■ Maryland-based horses owned by the late Alfred G. Vanderbilt highlighted a strong Fasig-Tipton Midlantic winter mixed sale in February.

Horsemen "looking to invest in a piece of the Vanderbilt mystique" had a choice of three broodmares, two yearlings and four horses of racing age consigned by Don Litz's Litz Bloodstock Services. The nine grossed $298,000, for an average of $33,111. The two most expensive were full siblings How Dry I Am (sold for $80,000) and stakes winner Ewer All Wet ($70,000), seventh-generation Vanderbilt homebreds out of Tall Glass O'Water descending from Native Dancer's full-sister Teahouse (out of Geisha). The Pons family's Country Life Farm purchased their half-sister Hey Up There for $18,000. Not in foal, the mare would be bred to the farm's Citidancer.

Purchased by Kathryn Clark, Ewer All Wet was turned over to trainer Rodney Jenkins, made his first start for his new connections that June, won six of nine for the year, four stakes, and earned $225,010. He would race for Clark through 2005 while earning nearly $300,000. Country Life's purchase was equally rewarding as all five foals out of Hey Up There were winners, among them stakes winner Sagamoon. The Citidancer filly, Mrs. Vanderbilt, was later sold and became the dam of graded winner Dancing Afleet.

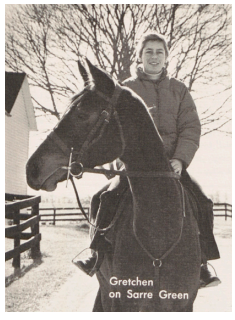
■ The year-end statistical review for 1999 saw Country Life Farm sire Allen's Prospect lead the region with $3,216,390 in progeny earnings. The 18-year-old son of Mr. Prospector and the Swaps mare Change Water was represented by 106 winners to top the nation for the third time, and second year in a row. His five stakes winners included undefeated Maryland-bred champion 2-year-old filly Gin Talking. Northview Stallion Station's Not For Love led the region's freshmen sires and ranked 10th nationally.

Twenty regional stallions had progeny earnings exceed $1 million for the year: 12 in Maryland, six in Pennsylvania (led by Peteski, who edged out Roanoke) and one each in Virginia (Secret Hello) and West Virginia (My Boy Adam).

The region's leading earner was not familiar to most: Japanese-based Virginia-bred Eishin Guymon. The group winner bred by Keswick Stables and sold for $36,000 as a Saratoga yearling amassed $851,726 of his career total $3,044,238. The highest-earning stateside runner was Maryland-bred Stellar Brush, a winner of three stakes, including the Grade 2 Ohio Derby, for earnings of $593,800.

50 years ago

■ Sarre Green, claimed by husband and wife training duo Jack and Gretchen Mobberley for $6,000 at Bowie four years earlier, was described as "raunchy looking" at the time, said Jack, and earned the nickname Tubby around the barn "because she was all skin and bones," said Gretchen.



Looks proved deceiving. The mare, who became a barn pet, won 21 races, including the Gallorette and Haddonfield handicaps, and captured her final race, Keystone's Whitemarsh Handicap. The 7-year-old daughter of Clem Pac was officially retired immediately after the win, as the Mobberleys decided she would be bred that spring. She had a date with Claiborne Farm's *Hawaii.

"You know," said Jack Mobberley, "there's no way to put into words what this mare has done to us. The only way I can say what I mean is tell you that everybody who is sincerely conscientious about horses should have the privilege to own such a mare."

Sarre Green produced six winners from nine starters and was the granddam of one of the Mobberleys' best runners, graded stakes winner Jet Stream.

■ The queen of America's 3-year-old fillies during the winter season was Maryland-bred Hoso, winner of three consecutive stakes at Hialeah. Bred by Guy Burt and foaled at Glade Valley Farms near Frederick, the daughter of former Glade Valley stallion Solo Landing was owned by Roxie Gian, who purchased her the previous April for $175,000 after she won her first start by 11 lengths.

■ By a vote of 4-1, the Maryland Racing Commission agreed to allow race-day use of Butazolidin on all horses racing at the state's tracks other than 2-year-olds. The lone dissenting vote was cast by Carle Jackson, who reproached those trainers present at the commission meeting: "Have you ever heard of a farm? Six months rest? That sort of thing?"

■ The purchase of the late William duPont Jr.'s 5,500-acre Fair Hill estate by the State of Maryland came a step closer when duPont's executors agreed to accept an offer of $6 million for the tract.

Purchase of the land was authorized by the 1972 session of the General Assembly (duPont died in December 1966). Negotiations began in 1973. A spokesman for the Department of Natural Resources said the state had no plans to change or develop the property in the next few years. The traditional Fair Hill race meeting would continue to be held, according to the plans.

■ Early foal reports featured a future superstar. Carlyle "Jiggs" Lancaster reported his mare Candle Star, by Clandestine, delivered a Naskra colt Feb. 15. She was being bred back to Northern Jove.

The Naskra colt was Eclipse Award-winning champion sprinter Star de Naskra.

History Repeats

Marylander Sidney Watters Jr. saddled Shadow Brook, the first horse to win an Eclipse Award as North America's champion steeplechaser, in 1971. The title-clinching campaign featured victories in the American Grand National (at Saratoga) and Temple Gwathmey (Belmont Park), historic races also won by 2024 Eclipse winner Snap Decision for Marylander Jack Fisher.

In addition, Shadow Brook's 1971 included two other stakes wins, a fourth in the Colonial Cup and six starts on the flat in New York. Watters and Fisher were both inducted into racing's Hall of Fame.

Peter Winants was on staff at The Maryland Horse during the 1960s, writing and taking photographs for the magazine before heading to Virginia where he headed up The Chronicle of the Horse magazine and later the National Sporting Library. Before his death in 2009, he gifted his prints on file at the MHBA, which have become part of the Maryland Horse Library as The Winants Collection.

Mid-Atlantic 2024 Statistical Review

— The Numbers Game —

There are two main camps when it comes to statistics. One believes they are valuable tools when trying to compare or evaluate performances. The other embraces the phrase "Lies, damned lies and statistics" that means numbers bolster weak arguments or prove points that may not be totally accurate in the big picture.

Regardless of where you sit, statistics in the sports world are vital. In Thoroughbred breeding, not only can they be used to quantify quality or show trends, they can be quite enlightening.

For more than 30 years, Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred has provided a bounty of statistics for readers to pour over. Each year, this edition includes an alphabetical listing of state-bred stakes winners, breeding statistics from The Jockey Club on the number of mares bred by local stallions, the number of stakes horses by local stallions, and more.

Want to see a list of West Virginia-bred millionaires? Turn to page 162. Or find Maryland breeders of stakes winners for the year? See page 112. How many mares were bred to Pennsylvania stallions the past 15 years? Go to page 144. Who was the leading earner among New Jersey-breds last season? Page 126. How many Virginia-bred stakes winners per year since 2010? Kindly turn to page 155.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred uses a variety of sources to compile this trove. Each state's breeders' association provides background on its organization and its programs, and when available, statistics on the individual state fund program.

The Jockey Club annually supplies breeding statistics for each state. Found in the shaded boxes throughout the state's statistical section are charts showing numbers of mares bred, foals born in the state, total earnings by state-bred runners, along with a running history of those numbers.

The Jockey Club has similar information available in its State Fact Books section on its website. But Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred provides numbers going back for more than a decade. The Jockey Club also provides an annual Report of Mares Bred/Live Foal Report for all stallions in its database on a state-by-state basis.

Mid-Atlantic-bred stakes horses are highlighted, and stakes winners have brief bios, which include a pedigree line, the breeder, plus the owner and trainer at the time the runner last won a stakes, in addition to a listing of all the stakes performances for the year.

Leading state-bred runners for the year – by earnings and wins – are found within these pages, as is an alphabetical listing of the breeders of state-bred stakes winners.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred utilizes The Jockey Club Information System's database for state-bred runners lists and stallion progeny figures. TJCIS includes all statistic information from the Northern and Southern Hemispheres, the most comprehensive numbers available. Thus TJCIS's lists of leading earners produced for each state takes into account horses who never started in the U.S. or Europe.

And stallions with runners in Southern Hemisphere countries have those figures added to year-end totals (including newly-turned 2-year-olds in South America, Australia and New Zealand who are just launching their careers in November and December).

Statistics in these pages can be used as the reader sees fit. Follow breeding trends, recap a runner's season, find out how much a state breeders' fund paid out, get the track record for a stallion.

If Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred helps you settle an argument with a statistical non-believer, you're welcome. With the rise of the electronic age, more information can be found on the internet. But these pages give a comprehensive overview of the previous season, in one spot. Pick it up, turn to a page, explore, get lost in the numbers.

If nothing else, realize that the annual statistical section proves one thing – there is a rich and bountiful industry in this region that should never be overlooked.

And now you've got the numbers to prove it.

DCTP Open Stakes

DCTP Open Stakes winners are defined as any Delaware Certified horse who wins a stakes at any racetrack, including stakes at Delaware Park not DCTP restricted.

The following are the DCTP open stakes winners: Alwaysinahurry, Fille d'Esprit, Galilei, Gold Digging Broad, Howgreatisnate, Kissedbyanangel, Late Frost, Mavilus, Mia Tosca, Neecie Marie, Talk to the Judge and Tappin Jose. ◆

Two 2024 DCTP restricted stakes – the Small Wonder and First State Dash – were run for 2-year-olds Sept. 11. Both winners kicked off their careers at the meet and took down multiple stakes.

Runnymoore Racing's homebred Caprice captured the $100,000 Small Wonder Stakes by daylight over Great Andrei. It was the Cal Lynch trainee's third win in three starts, all at Del Park, and followed a victory in the Blue Hen Stakes in August.

Gary Capuano-trained, co-owned and co-bred It's Hammertime broke his maiden in June by 8 lengths and next out took the $100,000 First State Dash by 5 over stakes-winning favorite Re Markably. Racing for Eagle Up Stables, London Reid Thoroughbreds and Non Stop Stable, the colt added the Rocky Run Stakes in October to remain undefeated in three Delaware starts. ◆

MARYLAND HORSE BREEDERS ASSOCIATION
Since 1929

Maryland Horse Breeders Association

The Maryland Horse Breeders Association (MHBA) has been the leading horse industry advocate in the state since its founding in 1929. It functions as an informational resource for horse breeders and owners, for the media, for national, community and governmental organizations and for the general public.

As a service organization, the MHBA provides industry information, educational opportunities and legislative representation to its membership, who include breeders, owners, trainers and horse enthusiasts of all kinds. The MHBA publishes a weekly e-mail bulletin and a monthly newsletter, Maryland Horse, as well as Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred magazine.

The Maryland Horse Library & Education Center, operated by the Maryland Horse Foundation (the charitable arm of the MHBA), officially opened in December 2022 and is the largest of its kind on the east coast, its shelves holding thousands of books dedicated exclusively to horses.

In addition, the MHBA maintains several websites: Maryland Thoroughbred.com, a resource for news and information on Maryland breeding and racing; MidAtlanticTB.com, which carries regional news, information on the magazine, and access to the digital edition of Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred; marylandmillion.com for news and events about Maryland's Day at the Races; and mdthoroughbredhalloffame.com which showcases full biographies of the Maryland-bred Hall of Fame horses.

The MHBA helped innovate, and now administers, several state-oriented incentive programs. Both the Maryland-Bred Race Fund, created by statute in 1962 for Thoroughbreds foaled in Maryland, and the Maryland Million, chartered in 1985 for Thoroughbreds conceived in Maryland, were the first programs of their kind anywhere in the U.S. ✹

The Maryland Fund: Maryland-bred awards

The Maryland Fund was created by the General Assembly in 1962. Maryland was the first state to develop a legislated incentive program to encourage the improvement of Thoroughbred breeding and racing.

In Maryland, there are six categories through which monies for Maryland-breds are made available: 1) purse money for races for registered Maryland-breds; 2) awards for owners of registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; 3) awards for breeders of registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; 4) awards for stallions who sire registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; and 5) bonus awards for the highest-earning 2 and 3-year-olds shown at the annual MHBA yearling show and 6) an allocation for purses/bonuses for Maryland-sired horses.

Currently, the Maryland Fund receives slightly less than 1 percent of the total mutuel handle and breakage from Laurel and Pimlico (the state's two major tracks), and receives approximately 1.5 percent of the mutuel handle and 5.0 percent of the breakage at Timonium.

Owner awards are paid by the purse account to the owners of all registered Maryland-breds when they finish first, second or third in any race other than stakes. Bonuses are paid to eligible horses in the form of developer (15 percent) and owner (15 percent) bonuses in relation to the horse's share of the purse.

Breeder and stallion awards are paid for the registered Maryland-bred who finishes first, second or third in any race in Maryland. Breeder awards are 22.5 percent of a horse's share of the purse; stallion awards are 7.5 percent. An additional 7.5 percent breeder bonus is paid on horses born prior to 2023 who are Maryland-bred and Maryland-sired placing first in a maiden race. Implemented in 2025 for horses born in 2023 and after, Breeder awards will be 31.5 percent for Maryland-bred and Maryland-sired horses who finish first, second or third in all overnight races in Maryland (40 percent more than the bonus for non-Maryland-sired Maryland-breds). In stakes races, the award is based on the first $100,000 of the gross purse.

In order to earn a breeder award, the horse must be registered as a Maryland-bred. In order to earn a stallion award, the horse must be registered as a Maryland-bred, and the sire must be registered with the MHBA, in addition to having been standing in Maryland at the time the horse was conceived.

The Maryland Fund program is administered by the Maryland Racing Commission with the assistance and advice of the Maryland Fund Advisory Committee chaired by Terry West, a member of the Maryland Racing Commission. Under the direction of the commission, the actual implementation of the fund, including maintaining the Maryland-bred registry and computing and distributing all bonus awards, is performed by the MHBA.

Breeder and stallion award percentages are evaluated on a bi-annual basis on the advice of the Maryland Fund Advisory Committee. Owner award percentages are determined by a separate agreement. (For Maryland Million day, breeder and stallion award percentages are determined annually.) Awards are paid as soon as practical.

The stakes program is planned on a meet by meet basis and is based on projected track handles for the coming year. ✹

2024 Maryland sires

Statistics compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems for stallions who currently stand or concluded their careers in the state and are represented by earnings of $1,000 or more in 2024. Statistics are for racing through December 31, 2024, and include foreign results for all Northern and Southern Hemisphere countries as reported to TJCIS. †Indicates stallion represented by first crop to race. Explanation for abbreviations: Foals—total registered foals; Strs.—starters; Sts.—starts; Wnrs.—winners; %—percentage of winners from starters; SW—stakes winners.

Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey

The Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey is an organization dedicated to fostering and promoting the breeding and ownership of Thoroughbred horses in the state of New Jersey. Active since 1945, the association's primary role is to administer a New Jersey-bred incentive program for breeders, stallion owners and racehorse owners.

Benefits to members include a subscription to Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred, discounted member rates for foal registrations, access to online pedigree reports and manufacturer's discounts for farm equipment through NTRA Advantage and Equine Equipment.

The association also maintains a close alliance with the New Jersey Racing Commission, the New Jersey Department of Agriculture and the Equine Advisory Board, as well as the New Jersey Horse Council. ✹

New Jersey Breeders' Program

Requirements for eligibility to the New Jersey Breeders' Program:

(a) In order to be eligible to enter and start in races exclusively for New Jersey bred foals, each New Jersey bred foal must be registered with the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey (TBANJ).

(b) To qualify for such registration, the said horse must have been foaled in the State of New Jersey by a resident New Jersey mare or a non-resident New Jersey mare.

(c) A resident New Jersey mare is a mare that resides in New Jersey continuously from Nov. 1 of the year prior to the foaling through the date of foaling. A mare purchased at public auction subsequent to Oct. 17 of the year prior to foaling, is considered a resident New Jersey mare provided that she commences residence in New Jersey within two weeks of her purchase and continuously resides in New Jersey through the date of foaling. For the purpose of this paragraph, public auction is defined as an auction generally regarded as a public auction in the Thoroughbred horse industry and recognized as same by the TBANJ.

2. A non-resident New Jersey mare is a mare that has not returned to New Jersey by Nov. 1 of the year prior to foaling. The resulting foal can still be registered as a New Jersey-bred provided the mare is bred to a registered New Jersey stallion the season of the birth of said foal and remain in New Jersey for a continuous period of 90 days after foaling.

3. A "New Jersey stallion" is a stallion resident and standing in the State of New Jersey the full breeding season, commonly understood to be the period from Feb. 1 through July 1 of the subject year. If a stallion is brought into New Jersey subsequent to the start of the breeding season, he may be approved as a "New Jersey stallion" by the New Jersey Racing Commission upon recommendation of the Board of Trustees of the TBANJ provided that he stands and is a resident in New Jersey for the remainder of the breeding season. For those stallions brought into New Jersey subsequent to the commencement of the breeding season, approval by the TBANJ as a "New Jersey stallion" is only for the period from the date of approval through the end of the breeding season. All "New Jersey stallions" must be registered with the TBANJ and all appropriate fees paid prior to Feb. 1 of the breeding season or, in the case of a stallion entering the State subsequent to the start of the breeding season, prior to serving the first mare. Failure to meet the above criteria solely by reason of death of the stallion does not disqualify said stallion as a "New Jersey stallion."

Breeders qualify for awards when the owner of a mare registers the foal with the TBANJ. The breeder will receive a percentage based on what that foal earns when finishing first through fourth at a New Jersey track in both open and restricted New Jersey-bred races.

Award percentages for breeders – 35 percent* is paid if the foal is by a registered New Jersey stallion; 25 percent* if the foal is by a stallion standing in a state other than New Jersey.

In order for stallion owners to qualify for awards, the owner must register the stallion annually with the TBANJ. Stallion owners will receive an award equal to 10 percent* of what all foals by said stallion earn when finishing first through fourth at a New Jersey track in both open and restricted New Jersey-bred races.

Owners of New Jersey-bred horses will receive an award equal to 10 percent* when their New Jersey-bred horse finishes first through fourth at a New Jersey track in open races. ✹

There is a $10,000 maximum for first and $5,000 for second through fourth on each award in each race. Total awards are based on funds generated annually.*

Established in late 1979 by a small but dedicated group of Thoroughbred owners and breeders, the North Carolina Thoroughbred Association is a nonprofit, all-volunteer organization governed by an elected board of directors and officers.

The mission statement of the North Carolina Thoroughbred Association reads as follows:

- To promote the Thoroughbred industry in North Carolina;
- To provide educational opportunity to its members in all aspects of the industry;
- To provide its members with the opportunity to develop working relationships, and to meet as friends and colleagues, thereby encouraging excellence and outstanding achievements of members. ■

North Carolina-bred runners of 2024

This list represents all 2024 starters with earnings of $5,000 or more in all countries as reported to Jockey Club Information Systems.
Final state statistics at end are the total for all state-bred runners. Stakes horses are indicated in bold type—winners in upper case letters, placed horses in upper and lower case.

Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA), a not-for-profit organization founded in 1948, has as its main priority protection of Pennsylvania's Thoroughbred breeding and racing industries. These industries are important agricultural institutions that play significant roles in the state's economy, generating tremendous tax revenues for the state and making substantial contributions to the state's economy in general, while helping to sustain Pennsylvania's rural character.

Working with other industry leaders over the years, PHBA has attained several goals that have had far-reaching benefits. One such goal was the establishment of the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund, which became a reality in 1974. The fund program, administered by PHBA, has evolved into one of the country's most lucrative incentive programs. ✹

Pennsylvania Breeding Fund

Pennsylvania's Breeding Fund program distributes more money, on a per foal basis, than nearly every other state-bred program now in operation. Established in 1974, the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund has grown from a disbursement of $65,000 in its initial year of operation to over $26.2 million in 2024.

Thoroughbred breeding and racing is a high-risk enterprise, but for breeders of PA-Breds, owners of stallions standing in this state, and owners of PA-Breds racing at PARX Racing, Penn National and Presque Isle Downs, the added rewards can be one factor that makes for a winning stable.

The Pennsylvania Breeding Fund is financed by a percentage of the state's racing fund, after expenses, and slot revenues. It provides for individual award payments (breeder and stallion awards), overnight races for PA-Breds, purse bonus supplements, PA-Bred stakes races, and reimbursement of expenses incurred by the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA) in its role as program administrator.

While benefitting owners and breeders with its incentive awards, the Fund serves a wider purpose, helping to support live racing at PARX Racing, Penn National and Presque Isle Downs. By making it worthwhile for owners to race PA-Breds in their native state, the Breeding Fund program channels a steady supply of competitive runners to the Pennsylvania tracks, and makes it less likely that our homegrown product will be lured to competing race tracks within the region.

Pennsylvania's breeding and racing industry contributes approximately $1.6 billion annually to the state's economy, so it is clear that the state has a vested interest in supporting these activities.

By law, PHBA is responsible for administering the Breeding Fund program for the State Horse Racing Commission, and maintaining an up-to-date registry of PA-Breds and Pennsylvania stallions.

A Thoroughbred foal born in the state of Pennsylvania and registered as such with The Jockey Club is eligible for Pennsylvania-bred registration with the PHBA if one of the following conditions is met:

1) The dam of the foal resided continuously in Pennsylvania since Dec. 1 of the year of conception through foaling. Mares not being bred back will fall under this category.
2) The dam of the foal was purchased at a public sale after Dec. 1 of the year of conception and brought into Pennsylvania within 14 days of the date of purchase (60 days if outside the U.S.) and remained continuously through foaling. During the year of foaling, the foal or its dam spent at least ninety (90) days in the state. Private transactions are not eligible for domicile waiver.
3) The dam of the foal arrived after Dec. 1 of the year of conception, foaled in Pennsylvania and was bred back to a registered PA stallion standing in Pennsylvania and the dam of the foal resided sixty (60) consecutive days during the year of foaling.

There are two distinctions when registering a PA-Bred foal: those sired by registered Pennsylvania stallions and those sired by non-registered stallions.

PA-Breds have preferred starter status within the conditions in most non-restricted overnight races. The preference is claimed by trainers at the time of entry.

South Carolina Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association

The mission of the South Carolina Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association (SCTOBA) is to promote the Thoroughbred horse industry in the state and throughout the region.

The SCTOBA works to create awareness of the tremendous economic impact the Thoroughbred horse industry has in the state. The organization is a blend of members who have interest in the various aspects of the Thoroughbred business – breeding, training and racing.

The organization reaches out to partner with sister organizations such as the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation of South Carolina and other regional state associations. In doing so, the SCTOBA looks to provide leadership and solutions to the challenges presented by the Thoroughbred business.

Our farms and training centers represent our state across the country with graduates continuously winning stakes events. ✹

Virginia Thoroughbred Association

The Virginia Thoroughbred Association (VTA) was organized in 1942 to cultivate further development of the Commonwealth's heritage as a producer of quality Thoroughbred horses.

With the passage of parimutuel racing legislation, the VTA has vastly expanded the scope of its operations, both to assist in developing rules under which a parimutuel breeders' fund is administered by the Virginia Racing Commission, and to address the opportunities racing holds forth to strengthen and enhance Virginia's standing as one of the world's important centers for Thoroughbred nurseries.

Above all, the VTA is a service organization whose main goal is to assist members in achieving success with Thoroughbreds. ✹

Virginia Breeders' Fund

VIRGINIA

Eligibility for registering foals with the Virginia Breeders' Fund:

A Virginia-bred horse is a horse foaled in Virginia, whose dam resides at a Virginia participating facility from Sept. 1 of the year of the foal's conception through the foal's date of birth, is registered by The Jockey Club, and is registered with the VTA.

If the dam of the foal was purchased at a public sale after Sept. 1 of the year of the foal's conception and brought to a Virginia participating facility within 15 days after the purchase date (60 days if purchased outside the US), the mare can meet the residency requirement if she remains at a Virginia participating facility through the date of the foal's birth. The sale must be a completed public sale or a private transaction as a result of a RNA at the public sale.

The fee to register a Virginia-bred foal is $25 by Dec. 31 of its weanling year ($125 non-VTA member fee). If registered as a yearling the fee increases to $50 ($150 for a non-member) or if registered as a 2-year-old or older the fee is $200 ($300 for a non-member).

A Virginia-sired horse is a horse registered with The Jockey Club, conceived in Virginia, foaled outside the state and sired by a Virginia stallion registered with the VTA. The fee to register a Virginia-sired horse is $25 ($125 for a non-member).

Stallion registration:

Virginia stallions must register with the Virginia Thoroughbred Association annually by Dec. 31. The annual registration makes a Virginia stallion owner eligible to receive stallion awards based on the performance of the resulting foal crop from the breeding season in which the stallion is registered (for example Virginia stallions registered in 2025 are eligible for awards based on the performance of their 2026 foal crop). The fee to register a stallion is $100 ($200 non-member fee).

Fund distribution:

The Virginia Breeders' Fund is generated by 1 percent of every dollar wagered on live racing, OTBs and ADW in Virginia. The Fund also receives .025 percent from the gross proceeds of Historic Horse Racing. Each year the Virginia Racing Commission approves how the money in the fund is allocated.

A large portion of the fund, $1,899,477 for 2024, was set aside for payments to breeders of registered Virginia-breds that placed first through third in open races anywhere in North America (awards are earned for restricted races in Virginia). There is a $25,000 cap on any single award. In 2024 breeders' awards averaged 36 percent of each first through third-place purse earned.

A smaller portion, $150,000 for 2024, was set aside for payments to owners of registered Virginia Stallions whose offspring that placed first through third in open races at any racetrack in North America.

Stallion awards in 2024 were 83 percent of each first through third-place purse earned by a stallion's offspring.

See VABred.org for program details. ✹

2024 Virginia sires

Statistics compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems for stallions who currently stand or concluded their careers in the state and are represented by earnings of $1,000 or more in 2024. Statistics are for racing through December 31, 2024, and include foreign results for all Northern and Southern Hemisphere countries as reported to TJCIS. †Indicates stallion represented by first crop to race. Explanation for abbreviations: Foals—total registered foals; Strs.—starters; Sts.—starts; Wnrs.—winners; %—percentage of winners from starters; SW—stakes winners.

The Jockey Club does not represent this information as purporting to describe the fertility of any Thoroughbred stallion. Data provided by The Jockey Club is generally accurate but occasionally errors occur as a result of incorrect data received from others, mistakes in processing, and other causes. The Jockey Club disclaims responsibility for the consequences, if any, of such errors, but would appreciate them being called to its attention. The information is based on Live Foal/No Foal (LF/NF) Reports received as of Oct. 1, 2024. Figures in parentheses next to the stallion's name indicates the number of mares bred to the stallion on Southern Hemisphere time.

2024 Virginia Certified and Virginia-Bred/Sired Developer Bonuses

A Virginia Certified horse is a horse registered by The Jockey Club, conceived and foaled outside of Virginia but maintains residency in Virginia for at least six (6) consecutive months prior to December 31 of its 2-year-old year. The horse must reside at a registered Virginia facility, where the horse is available for inspection by a VACTP official.

In 2024 Developers of Virginia Certified, Virginia-Bred (foals of 2021 and later) and Sired (foals of 2021 and later) horses earned a 21 percent bonus on the winning purse when they won any open race in the Mid-Atlantic region. A 10 percent bonus was earned for wins in Mid-Atlantic state restricted races. The developer is defined as the person or entity listed on the chart as owner when the horse makes its first start. Bonuses are earned for wins in NY, NJ, PA, DE, MD, WV, VA and all NSA sanctioned meets in the Mid-Atlantic region. There is a $10,000 cap on any single award. Out of state wins during the Colonial Downs meet are not eligible for awards. Wins in Virginia restricted races do not earn awards. Bonuses will not be paid for WV wins beginning with 2023 foals. Please see VABRED.ORG program details.

West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association

The West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association promotes the Thoroughbred breeding and racing industries in West Virginia through the financial incentives of breeders' awards programs.

The WVTBA sponsors races and activities throughout the year. An annual West Virginia-bred and/or sired horse show offers classes with cash awards and trophies. Additional activities include seminars and an annual awards dinner in late February/early March. The WVTBA is part of the West Virginia Fest in June in Charles Town, and hosts an annual meeting in November.

In 1968, when the West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association was started, the West Virginia foal crop numbered less than 70. The numbers didn't increase much above 100 until the Development Fund was begun in 1984. Now several hundred West Virginia-bred and/or sired foals are born each year.

Please contact the WVTBA for registration rules and fees.

Membership dues are $150 per year. If paid by June 30, members receive reduced registration rates for West Virginia-bred and/or sired horses. Please see the WVTBA website for other benefits and check out our Facebook page for news.

Call or write the WVTBA for information on how you may participate and benefit from our outstanding program. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday. ✹

It PAYS to have a West Virginia-Bred and/or -Sired Horse!

WV BREEDERS PROGRAMS OFFER SOME OF THE BEST INCENTIVES IN THE NATION:

- A minimum of three accredited races are written every day at Charles Town exclusively for registered WV-bred and/or -sired horses.
- West Virginia has the only program in the country that permits horses to win state-bred races that do not count against the horse's lifetime open conditions.
- The WV Thoroughbred Development Fund distributes over $4.5 million to breeders, owners, and sire owners of accredited WV-bred and/or -sired horses based the horse's annual earnings at Charles Town and Mountaineer Park racetracks.
- The West Virginia Breeders Classics pays out almost $1 million in purses for WV-bred and/or -sired horses. It is held annually on the 2nd Saturday in October.
- $800,000 in purses are allocated for up to sixteen WV accredited stakes races during the year.
- Supplemental Purse Awards of up to 10% of the winner's share of the purse to the owner, breeder, and/or sire owner of the accredited WV-bred and/or -sired winner.
- West Virginia offers year-round racing with approximately 165 race days per year.

2024 Statistical & Auction Review Edition

Just some numbers about Mid-Alantic Thoroughbreds you'll find in this year's statistical edition.

9 Mid-Atlantic-breds became millionaires in 2024. Maryland-bred Post Time led all by lifetime earnings with $1,227,910. A 3-year-old reached the milestone – New Jersey-bred Book'em Danno. Others to surpass the mark were Pennsylvania-breds Neecie Marie, Smooth B and Morning Matcha, Virginia-bred Gigante, West Virginia-breds Coastal Mission and Muad'dib and additional Maryland-bred Jaxon Traveler.

123 millionaires all-time representing the region through 2024. Pennsylvania has 36, followed by Maryland and Virginia, tied at 33, New Jersey (12) and West Virginia (nine). Maryland-bred Cigar remains the richest, with $9,999,815.

12 Mid-Atlantic-bred graded stakes winners – Pennsylvania led with six, followed by Maryland (four) and one each for New Jersey and West Virginia. New Jersey-bred Book'em Danno was the sole Grade 1 winner when he captured the Woody Stephens on Belmont Stakes day at Saratoga.

22 mares produced more than one Mid-Atlantic-bred stakes horse in 2024. One produced three – Cyndy and the late John McKee's Holy Pow Wow, the dam of stakes winners Duncan Idaho, Overnight Pow Wow and stakes-placed Muad'dib, the latter a new millionaire in 2024.

5 stakes wins for Pennsylvania-bred 2-year-old Caprice (Blue Hen, Small Wonder, Smart Halo, Maryland Juvenile Filly Championship, Gin Talking), tops among all runners in 2024. Three – all Maryland-breds – had four stakes wins each: Post Time (Carter-G2, General George-G3, Jennings, Polynesian), Future Is Now (Franklin-G2, Intercontinental-G2, Smart N Fancy, The Very One) and Jaxon Traveler (Whitmore-G3, Bill Thomas Memorial, David M. Vance, Zia Park Sprint).

4,456 Mid-Atlantic-breds made 28,977 starts in 2024 – 2,305 won 3,890 races. Total earnings were $130,209,278, for an average of $29,221.

2 Pennsylvania-bred mares of racing age sold for seven-figures. Roses for Debra, a 2019 daughter of Liam's Map bred by Blackstone Farm, was the most expensive Mid-Atlantic-bred sold during the year and topped the Keeneland November Breeding Stock sale with Whisper Hill Farm's bid of $2.4 million. Her nine career wins from 16 starts included five stakes, three graded, among those the 2024 Grade 2 Presque Isle Downs Masters and Grade 3 Giant's Causeway. Neecie Marie (2020, by Cross Traffic), a new millionaire in 2024, was purchased by Lake Villa Farm for $1 million at the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky November sale. Bred by Jon A. Marshall, she was a two-time graded stakes winner. Roses for Debra's year-younger half-sister Rosie's Alibi, also a stakes winner in 2024, sold at the Fasig-Tipton sale for $725,000. Both are out of the Bernardini mare Essential Rose.

2024 sales horses by Mid-Atlantic stallions

The following results, for 2024, represent all stallions who stand or completed their stud careers in the Mid-Atlantic region. Categories are divided by age groups—weanlings, yearlings and 2-year-olds. Information is provided as follows: Stallion's name, year of birth, sire and state where stallion was last reported as standing at stud; name of foal, sex, dam, sale code, buyer and price. RNA (reserve not attained) includes the last bid recorded, shown in parentheses. Sales results were compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems. Data provided or compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems generally is accurate, but occasionally errors and omissions occur as a result of incorrect data received by others, mistakes in processing and other causes. Therefore, The Jockey Club Information Systems makes no representations of warranties, express or implied, including those of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, as to any matter whatsoever, including but not limited to, the accuracy of any information, product, program or service furnished hereunder and all such information, products, programs and/or services are accepted on an "as is" basis.
